Albany, N. Y., February 24.—William J. Conners made good his prediction that he would still be chairman of the democratic state committee after his meeting today. In saving his political scalp, however, he lost most of his hair.

Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany chieftain, whose complete mastery of the situation was realized by no one better than by Conners himself, granted the Buffalo leader a brief political reprieve in the interest of party harmony, after Conners had agreed to resign in April and to repudiate his recent harsh statements concerning Mr. Murphy and the alleged auctioning of judgeships in New York, which he declared were the result of his "infirmities of temper" and were unjustified in fact.

Conners Will Resign.
Chairman Conners was reelected for a two-year term on April 17, 1908. He announced at the meeting today that "under no conceivable circumstances would he be a candidate for reelection." The office of chairman, he said, "is a thankless and difficult job," and he desired to give more time and attention to his family and to his business.

He promised, however, to work hard to uphold the hands of his successor, and to aid in restoring the democratic party to power. The state committee will meet in April to elect a new chairman.

Today's meeting lasted less than fifteen minutes. After the compromise, which was arranged at a personal conference between Chairman Conners and Leader Murphy, all fear of a clash at the meeting vanished.

Murphy Follows Conners.
Chairman Conners was smiling right and left as he entered and elbowed his way through the crowd waiting in the lobby of the Hotel Ten Eyck. Murphy, red-faced and looking straight ahead, followed Conners into the meeting place, the parlor, which was quickly jammed to the doors.

Chairman Conners banged the gavel. "Gentlemen, the meeting will please come to order," he said as he handed a typewritten statement to the clerk. It was the chairman's announcement of his intention to resign, dated after his final word with Murphy, and as the clerk read it, Conners gazed steadily into the faces of those before him. His reading brought only comments in undertones, and was quickly followed by the call of the meeting.

For the Income Tax.
Four resolutions had been prepared for introduction. They were quickly adopted without dissent, and the meeting adjourned. The first resolution was in favor of a federal income tax, and urged "our representatives in the legislature to press for passage and vote for the amendment to the federal constitution giving to the congress of the United States power to impose a tax upon incomes."

The second placed the committee on record as favoring the direct primary bills introduced by Senator Grady and Assemblyman Frisbie in the present legislature, measures which were drafted by the executive committee of the democratic party.

The committee then took a ding at "republican misrule" and the "iniquitous tariff law" by adopting a resolution declaring that the republican party won the last national election upon the platform of pledging it specifically to revise the tariff downward, and that in spite of that pledge "the recent revision has in no way removed from the shoulders of the great mass of the people the burden of indirect taxation which the republican policy of protection imposes upon them for the benefit of the few."

Gross Breach of Faith.
It charged the republican leaders in the recent revision of the tariff with gross breach of faith and treachery to the people, and declared that the excessive cost of the necessities of life is directly attributable to republican misrule, and is certain to continue until the "iniquitous tariff law" so well honestly revised by those who represent the sufferers and not the beneficiaries under it, and until, under democratic rule, the tariff of protection and special privilege gives way to the tariff for revenue only.

Fairbanks in Paris.
Paris, February 24.—Charles W. Fairbanks will remain in this city until Monday, when he will go to London. A number of functions in his honor have been arranged. The former vice president of the United States has accepted invitations to visit the French senate and chamber of deputies, the presidents of the two houses arranging informal receptions at which he will meet the prominent members.

HATS OFF AFTER SIX O'CLOCK P. M.Decision Reached About Moving Picture Shows.*Session of Council Committee Was Highly Dramatic—Lawyer Makes Some Lively Statements—Decision Reached in Executive Session.

Ladies must remove their hats at moving picture shows after 6 o'clock in the evening. At all day performances up to that hour they can wear any kind of a hat they want to.

This was the decision reached by the special council committee yesterday afternoon after one of the most intensely interesting, most "dramatic" meetings ever held by a council committee in Atlanta.

The deliberations of the momentous question were interspersed with such remarks by Attorney E. V. Carter as: "Here are great councilmen who have $3,000,000 of bond money to spend shooting at a tom-tit."

"Make the women take off their hats, gentlemen? I tell you that since the rats have gone out of style some women cannot take off their hats without subjecting themselves to the scoffs and ridicule of the multitude."

"All of this shows a big streak of masculine selfishness."

"Just go on, gentlemen, and you will wind up by having women suffrage sooner than you expect in Atlanta."

"Why, gentlemen, a man who would raise a row about hats in a five-cent show that lasts only thirty minutes must have dyspepsia and ought to be at home."

"It is a divine prerogative of a woman to wear her hat and no man should dare to take from her this God-given right."

Just as Attorney Carter reeled off this peroration, Alderman Candler, a member of the committee, jumped to his feet and shouted:

A Biblical Quotation.
"Solomon says the glory of a woman is her hat."

"Solomon said hat, judge, not hat," somebody whispered to the alderman, but he did not seem to hear and let his remark stand.

These aeroplane flights of oratory by Attorney Carter, whose leading points are quoted above, can better be appreciated when it is understood that two members of the committee—Alderman Hancock and Councilman Johnston—were the leaders in the fight for the removal of the women's hats. The entire committee was present, as follows: Aldermen Pomeroy, Grant, Candler and Hancock, and Councilman Johnston.

A petition was read from some of the proprietors of the moving picture shows in which they asked that the "hat-off" law be repealed. There was also a statement by the proprietors of the large theaters who claimed that the law was a good one.

Will Oldknow, who owns one moving picture show and manages another, stated that since the hat-off ordinance was passed his business had fallen off 30 per cent. He said that many ladies had refused to enter the shows, and a number demanded the return of their money because they had to take off their hats.

Lady cashiers stated that many women had declined to see the shows because they did not care to remove their hats.

T. C. Taylor, of the "Diske," stated that his business had increased because of the law. He said that very few women objected to taking off their hats, and on the other hand, the men-folks were greatly pleased.

Oldknow stated that he had taken 2,000 people a day to make a show pay expenses, and that meant $100 a day in nickels.

Attorney Carter then made his speech, extracts from which have been given. He asked for justice and fair play, and said that the moving picture show men were losing money because of the "hat-off" law.

In Executive Session.
The committee went into executive session. Alderman Hancock and Councilman Johnston stated that they were regular patrons of the moving picture shows and the big hats of women kept them from seeing anything. Councilman Johnston graphically described how, on one occasion, Alderman Hancock missed a closing scene of a very sensational picture, which caused him to groan in spirit.

Councilman Johnston wanted to postpone action until council met again, but March 2 Aldermen Pomeroy and Candler wanted to make the hour for taking off hats either 6:30 o'clock all the year round or 6 o'clock in the winter and 7 o'clock in the summer. Alderman Hancock and Grant and Councilman Johnston wanted the hour made 6 o'clock all the year round, and as they constituted a majority of the committee, they had their way. The final vote was unanimous for the hour of six.

The proprietors of the moving picture shows, who had remained on the outside waiting results, seemed to be satisfied.

Go into effect until council meets, it is understood that the police authorities will be asked to take the committee's view and only enforce the law after 6 o'clock for the present.

Washington, February 24.—The "Uncle Joe Cannon Matrimonial Agency" is in full swing. Since the publication of the original letter several days ago, in which a woman in Ohio deplored the present high cost of living as a deterrent to men seeking matrimony, epistles from both sexes, dealing with the subject, have been gradually increasing in the speaker's mail. An Illinois farmer wrote that he did not mind the high prices, and that he was possessed of a 120-acre farm and was looking for a wife. A hot response to the letter came from Detroit today, as follows:

office Inspector Brittain, Assisted by Capt. J. M. Wright.

Made No Defense at Hearing.

Valdosta, Ga., February 24.—(Special.)—Dr. J. R. Dedge, a dentist at Nichols, Coffee county, and his brother, Dr. E. E. Dedge, of Milltown, Berrien county, were arrested by United States secret service men this afternoon and brought to Valdosta today charged with being implicated in a counterfeiting scheme.

The former was given a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Roy E. Powell, and bound over under a bond of $1,000. The warrant against the latter was dismissed.

Dr. J. R. Dedge was arrested by Special Treasury Agent J. M. Wright and Postoffice Inspector Brittain at the home of his father in Appling county at a late hour last night, while E. E. Dedge was taken into custody by Deputy Marshal J. M. Setton and D. H. Riley at Milltown.

Spurious Coins in Pocket.
When the former was arrested a small box containing ten spurious $100 gold pieces was found in his overcoat pocket. These coins were exhibited as evidence against the accused at the trial this afternoon. The workmanship is pronounced by the officers as about the best they ever saw. The coins are apparently made of a white metal plated with gold, and could be readily passed as genuine on a person who happened not to notice them carefully. Their greatest defect is their weight, two of them weighing but little more than one genuine coin weighs.

The case against Dr. Dedge was worked up by Inspector Brittain. On the stand he stated that the box of coins, which had been received through the mails addressed to the accused at Douglas, Ga., had been ordered forwarded to Nichols. The inspector's attention was called to it by the postmaster and his assistant, whose suspicions had been aroused in some manner. The inspector opened the box, and carried it to the deputy collector's office at Macon, where it was exhibited to collector Stiers.

Afterwards the package was returned to the Douglas office and, in due course, forwarded to Dr. Dedge at Nichols. The officers followed the package to the latter place and, when it had been delivered, arrested the doctor. The postmark indicated that the package had been mailed at Atlanta, and while the officers discuss the matter guardedly, they do not believe that the spurious money came originally from Atlanta.

Shower of Quercus.
No evidence was presented at the trial this afternoon that Dr. Dedge had yet passed any of the money, nor were any mounds or counterfeiting apparatus found on his person. The government, however, will no doubt contend that he was acting as a "shower of the quercus," and his arrest may lead to the discovery of the makers of the coins.

Dr. Dedge made no defense whatever at the preliminary hearing. To the officers, when arrested, he stated that he thought the box contained some dental supplies which he had ordered, and that he did not know who sent him the spurious coins, or where they came from. Nothing that would indicate the senders appeared on the box or in the contents which were wrapped in cotton and paper.

District Attorney Alexander Akerman conducted the case against Dr. Dedge. J. Randall Walker, of this city, appeared for the accused. Dr. Dedge is attempting tonight to raise the necessary bond. His case will come up at the next term of the United States court here.

One Killed; Fifteen Injured.
Chicago, February 24.—A street car conductor was instantly killed, a motorman fatally injured and fifteen passengers severely hurt here today in a collision between a street car and a passenger train. The wreck occurred at a grade intersection on the tracks of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway.

Test Negotiations.
Meanwhile, test negotiations will be in progress with one of the southern railroad lines, similar to those held here later, are expected to submit to the men on all the railroad lines the question whether a general strike shall be called.

The strike votes on the Baltimore and Ohio and at large will not be immediately effective. It is understood at the Brotherhood headquarters here that the refusal by the roads to concede the wage adjustment asked.

In any event, affairs will not reach a crisis, it is now expected, for two days at least. Members Lee and Garrison will go to Baltimore to receive the result of the vote on that line Tuesday or Wednesday. A further request will then be made of the railroad officials to concede.

Result of Strike Vote.
The result of the strike vote of the Baltimore and Ohio men will be known to President W. G. Lee, of the trainmen, and Grand Master Garrison, of the conductors, early this coming week.

If the decision is to call a strike, as it is expected to be, the executive councils of the two orders, which will meet here later, are expected to submit to the men on all the railroad lines the question whether a general strike shall be called. It is understood at the Brotherhood headquarters here that the refusal by the roads to concede the wage adjustment asked.

Record for Revenue Office.
Louisville, Ky., February 24.—Surpassing all previous records for one day in the history of the local office, the collections on whisky in the fifth internal revenue district of Kentucky yesterday reached $82,329.48. The highest previous record was on December 14, 1909, when $81,917.77 was collected on the same article.

VIOLENCE IS MARKING THE GREAT STRIKE OF THE TROLLEY MEN IN PHILADELPHIA

Five hundred arrests, the shooting of three women, one seriously, and injury to 300 trolley cars, besides countless other minor damages, was one day's record in the great trolley car strike in this city. The violence of some of the strikers and the sympathizers with their cause did not catch the police and fire departments unprepared, as trouble between the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company, which controls every line in the city, and its men had been expected for a month. Mayor R. B. E. Pratt, spending many continuous hours at his office in the city hall, declared his intention of preserving order at all hazards. The strike was ordered by C. O. Pratt, national president of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees, who had been here conferring with the local leaders for some time. The association asserted that the company was putting in the field a rival union known as the United

Cleveland, Ohio, February 24.—The replies of the southern railroads to the wage demands of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors were opened here today. The refusal of the roads to meet the men's terms was unanimous.

This places the southern railroad situation in practically the same state as that in the territory north of the Chesapeake and Ohio and east of the Mississippi. It is now certain that any action taken by the men to press their demands will be simultaneous in the east and south.

Result of Strike Vote.
The result of the strike vote of the Baltimore and Ohio men will be known to President W. G. Lee, of the trainmen, and Grand Master Garrison, of the conductors, early this coming week.

LIFE OF BURGLAR APPEALED TO THIS COLLEGE GRADUATE

Pittsburg, February 24.—"The life of a burglar appealed to me. There's action in it," said Stephen Austin, a college graduate, who, upon being arrested tonight, confessed to holding up two drug store proprietors and several pedestrians in the Oakland and east end sections. Early tonight Austin was trying to adjust a revolver in his hip pocket when it exploded. The shot led to his arrest as a suspicious person, and upon being questioned he confessed to a long list of robberies, reciting in detail how each was committed.

Austin refused to name his university, but says his home is in Indiana, near Terre Haute.

"Stephen Austin is my correct name, but that is not all of it," said the prisoner, when urged to disclose his identity. "I know I am in a bad fix, and I am ready to take the consequences. I am a crook and I'll do it if necessary, but I won't disgrace my mother."

Terre Haute, Ind., February 24.—Stephen Austin, the self-confessed burglar, who was arrested in Pittsburg tonight and who gave his home as Terre Haute, is not known here. No one by that name has graduated from any local college.

Caught in the act of burglarizing the store of W. F. Matthews, 202 East Georgia avenue, near the corner of Reed street, an unidentified negro burglar was shot to death by Officer L. Boyce at 1:15 o'clock this morning.

The burglar had entered the store by breaking out a front window. Once inside he had started to "make a clean sweep" of everything in the place, filling a huge bag with dry goods of every description.

Hearing a noise, Officer Boyce, who was riding by on his wheel, stopped to investigate, and the negro dashed out and down Reed street. When ordered by the officer to halt, he halted temporarily, and as if to draw a gun from his hip pocket. The officer opened fire, emptying his revolver, one shot resulting fatally.

Columbus, Ga., February 24.—A few minutes after he had pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery, G. T. Moore, wanted in at least three other states on similar charges, today made his fourth successful escape within recent months from officers of the law.

Moore was in the private office of the sheriff, on the second floor of the court house, awaiting sentence, where he was left alone temporarily. When the sheriff returned to the room the prisoner was gone, and a rope dangling from an open window told the method used for escape.

Moore was wanted in South Carolina in two cases for jail-breaking, and at Anniston, Ala., for forgery and jail-breaking.

Washington, February 24.—What Senator Dewey fittingly characterized as the most unique farewell ever delivered in the senate chamber was heard there today, when at the close of the session, and at the end of his term, James Gordon, the senator from Mississippi, said goodbye to the senators with whom he had served for the last sixty days.

Speech Was Most Unique.
Colonel Gordon spoke for perhaps half an hour, and when he had concluded Senator Dewey addressed the chamber, saying he never had heard of read any speech of the kind which was so unique and so impressive as the one which had just been delivered to the senate. The New York senator said he was sure he voiced the sentiment of all the members of the senate when he expressed regret over the passing of the Mississippiian.

"No matter," he said, "how wonderful a colleague succeeds him, he cannot be James Gordon, of Mississippi." Practically the entire senate listened with rapt attention to the address of the venerable Mississippiian. He stood back of his own desk and the extreme right of the vice president and in homely phrase and almost without gesture talked to his colleagues as if they had been old-time friends. Twice he quoted from his own book of verses, which he afterwards presented to the vice president. His remarks were frequently punctuated with applause and laughter. The galleries were well filled and the occupants of them joined freely in the manifestations of approval.

Mother Showed Him Capitol.
Beginning with the statement that the dead-end in Mississippi had been broken and that Mr. Percy had been chosen to take his place, Colonel Gordon said that he had felt a desire to express his feelings towards the senate before returning to his home in Mississippi.

He then told how, when 5 years old, he had been presented with a toy board which was checked over with different objects, some of them good and some of them bad.

"One of these objects was the capitol of the United States, and his mother had told him, he said, that if he would be good and would live a correct life he might some day hope to sit in the seat of the big man who was pictured there."

"She never had told me a lie and I knew that what she said was true. I knew that I would some day occupy the seat of that big fellow and helping me I got there yesterday," referring to the fact that for a time yesterday he had occupied the seat of the presiding officer.

How Gordon Spent His Money.
"I was born a multi-millionaire," said Colonel Gordon, "but I never was happy until I got rid of my surplus money. I spent much of it on my slaves and the rest of my funds I spent like any gentleman and got rid of the entire encumbrance."

"I have listened with interest to the speeches here, and the more I hear of them the sorer I am for the millionaires. Why, if there is a fellow in the United States that I am sorry for, it's Rockefeller, because he has more money than anyone else. That is his misfortune. He can't go on the street with one of his grandchildren without being afraid that someone might kill him."

That Tired Feeling

that is caused by impure, impoverished blood or low, run-down condition of the system, is burdensome and discouraging. Do not put up with it a day longer, but take Hood's Sarsaparilla, which removes it as no other medicine does.

"I had that tired feeling, had no appetite and no ambition to do anything. A friend advised me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I did so, and soon that tired feeling was gone. I had a good appetite and felt well. I believe Hood's saved me from a long illness." MRS. B. JOHNSON, Westfield, N. J.

him. Why, I know that he loves one of these children much better than he loves all the money he has got.

"I think Mr. Rockefeller is a good man. I see his employees speak well of him, and I am told that he never had a strike. I am told also that he has given much money to churches and education.

He Wants Rockefeller for Guest.

"Now, I don't suppose everybody will like that, but those who don't like it can put it in their pipes and smoke it. I'd like for Mr. Rockefeller to come down to Mississippi and run his pipe lines through my land. He could have right-of-way for all the lines he wanted, for I know that in my time coal oil has been reduced from 40 cents to 10 cents per gallon."

Referring to the fact that he had been a Confederate soldier, Mr. Gordon said:

"I fought and bled, but I didn't die. However, I skedaddled frequently."

He then told of some of his exploits in the war and how he had captured General Cobby, of Indiana, and General Shafter, Shafter, he said, had fired at him five times during the Confederate charge without hitting him. He admitted that on more than one occasion he had been "skedaddled," but said that whenever the Union and Confederate soldiers met they were always good friends.

Hits Blab-Mouthed People.

Asserting that he loved the negro, he declared that he wanted Mason and Dixon's line obliterated from the map of the United States.

"A few blab-mouthed people down our way talk differently," he said, "but they are so ignorant that they are not worth wasting time on."

Paying a tribute to soldiers of both the north and south, Colonel Gordon said: "You may as well try to storm the heights of heaven and pluck the diadem from Jesus' crown as to take away from either of them any of the glory of the records of the two men who stood under the tree at Appomattox and brought the war to a close."

"This is the finest body of men that I ever associated with," he continued, speaking of the senate itself, and he beamed upon his colleagues.

Don't Want to Hurt Negroes

Again returning to the negro question, he said:

"We don't want to hurt the negro; why, I love him, and to convince you that I do I will quote from my own poetry concerning him."

He then read two of his poems, in which strong personal sentiment for the colored people of the south was expressed in rhymes.

Referring to Senator Heyburn's recent protest against General Lee's statue being allowed to remain in Statuary Hall, Colonel Gordon invited Senator Heyburn to visit him on his plantation, and said he was sure that after the Idaho senator had seen the south through his spectacles he would take off his hat to Lee as (Gordon) was willing to doff his hat to Grant.

Press Agent Worked Gordon.

Senator Gordon grew almost angry today at the published reports that a clever press agent had worked off on the senate through him, 100 tickets to "The Gentleman From Mississippi."

The senator said he witnessed a performance in Philadelphia and wanted all his colleagues to enjoy it also, and he bought the tickets himself as a courtesy to them. The senator has always been a liberal spender and in his younger days entertained house parties, lasting for several weeks at his large plantation in northern Mississippi, that embraced guests from as far away as New England.

PURE FOOD LAW ENFORCED;

TWO SEIZURES ARE MADE

Two important seizures of foods and feeds were made in Atlanta yesterday in the strict enforcement of the pure food and feed law of Georgia and the United States. Ten tons of alfalfa hay, alleged to be shipped by the Nebraska Colorado Company, of Kearney, Neb., to Atlanta for sale, were found mouldy and decomposed. Samples were taken by the United States food and drug inspector, J. L. Lynch, and turned over to State Chemist R. E. Stallings, and information in regard to the seizure was filed with United States District Attorney F. C. Tate. Steps will be taken at once to condemn such hay, which is said to cause blind staggers and other sicknesses in animals.

Thursday morning it was announced that eighty-nine barrels of catsup had been seized in the warehouse of H. L. Singer. Examination by State Chemist Stallings disclosed the presence of benzoate of soda and corn flour in it. United States Inspector Lynch sent samples to Washington, where it was reported the catsup contained enormous quantities of bacteria and was made from decomposed and putrid vegetables. The United States marshal has seized the shipment. The New Bluegrass Belle Canning Company, of Owensboro, Ky., is alleged to be the shipper. The indictment will originate there, the case against the goods to be tried here. If the government sustains the case, the goods will be destroyed. Twelve barrels were labeled Jumbo Tomato Catsup and the rest not labeled at all.

Short Items of Interest

Rev. Dr. M. B. Brown, of Boston, Mass., who comes to Atlanta to visit his relatives, has been invited by Rabbi A. S. Kleinfeld, of Congregation Beth Israel, to occupy the pulpit on this evening at 8 o'clock. His subject will be, "The First Decade of the Twentieth Century With Its Caved Religion—An Answer to Ex-President Eliot's New Religion."

On Friday, March 4, at 8 o'clock, Rabbi A. S. Kleinfeld will speak at the Congregation Beth Israel on "The Sanctity of the Home."

The Sunday School of Trinity church will give an entertainment in the school rooms next Friday night at 8 o'clock. The committee in charge has made elaborate preparations for the occasion, and will present a program which includes vocal solos, dramatic readings, and a variety of other attractions. No admission will be charged, and no collection taken.

The Mother's Meeting at the Immanuel Congregational Church, on Stewart avenue, at 3 o'clock this afternoon will be addressed by Prof. Henry W. Rose, specialist in parent training-school work. Mr. Rose's subject will be "A Trip to Babylon." All mothers in the vicinity are invited to attend.

NEW FORCE BILL

Attacks Proposal to Cut South's Representation.

Measure Is Fostered by Bennett of New York—Edwards Shows Negro Domination Would Ruin South—Tells How the South Has Cared for Negro.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, February 24.—(Special.)—The latest proposal in congress to reduce southern representation because of the alleged disfranchisement of the "brother in black," fostered by Representative Bennett, of New York, and set forth in a bill introduced by him at the present session, has considerably displeased southern members.

Mr. Bennett would amend the act of congress providing for the apportionment of members of congress, passed in the fifty-sixth congress, and approved January 16, 1910. His bill, if adopted, would reduce the representation of Georgia in the lower house, from eleven to six; North Carolina, from ten to seven; South Carolina, from seven to three; Alabama, from nine to five; Florida, from three to two; Arkansas, from seven to five; Tennessee, from ten to eight; Virginia, from ten to seven; Mississippi, from eight to three. It would reduce the membership of the house from 391 members to 359 members and reduce the representatives from the southern states by thirty-two members.

Representative Edwards, of Georgia, tonight secured the floor and delivered a strong, thoughtful and energetic address against the Bennett bill. He insisted that representation in the house is based, not upon the number of voters in each state, but upon population, and quoted section 2, article 1, of the federal constitution, that "electors (for members of the national house of representatives) in each state shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the state legislature." He said:

Edwards Annals Movement.

"From time to time, out of a fit of political desperation, the country is called upon to witness the spasmodic efforts of some gentlemen on the other side of this chamber, to destroy white supremacy in the south. But while white men live it will never be done. These gentlemen who pretend that they would put force bills and reduction of representation upon the south, hardly mean it. I cannot believe they are sincere in their announced purpose."

"If this proposed reduction was made, it would be for no other reason than that these ten southern states have dared to exercise their rights, as guaranteed to every state of the union, under the constitution. These ten southern states are to be chastised and the people thereof humiliated and trodden upon, for doing what they had an absolute right to do. The gentleman from New York and the few who agree with him in this unjust measure, hardly know the danger of the 'dynamite' with which they are playing. God forbid that men who are blind to justice and so empty of love for the white race, and who so disregard human rights should ever get control of the congress of the United States. Not until then will any state suffer humiliation because it dares to purify the ballot and morals in its borders, by prescribing certain restrictions as to who shall be permitted to exercise the right of franchise, and to control its government."

South Has Cared for Negro.

"Mr. Chairman, I protest against this attempt at political discord. My people, the southern white people as a whole, have done their full duty by the negro. They have done more than ought to have been expected of them; they have heavily taxed themselves for his education; they have given him every opportunity to earn a respectable livelihood; they have given him justice in the courts; they are gladly giving him aid along his journey toward self-respect and self-reliance. The negro in the south has all the rights of citizenship save only that of suffrage, and he has that, except as it is denied him under qualifications set forth in compliance with the law and the rights of certain states. The Anglo-Saxon is the only race that has thus far successfully solved the great problem of government."

"For this great task that race had centuries of preparation. From Magna Charta to the Declaration of Independence, much precious blood was shed to establish government by the people. From the overthrow of our government down to the present day the people have settled every question that presented itself, and the country is the most shining example in all the world of a well-balanced, well-established, democratic republic."

"The only rights, Mr. Chairman, that the negro has received that have been accorded nothing to him have been accorded to the south."

"The negro would not be so terribly anxious to vote if he were not so anxious to do so by these periodic force bills in congress and the foolish, false doctrines of scheming politicians."

Realizing that the negro is the most important element in the situation, either north or south, know this.

Republicans Hypocrites.

"The real object of all such bills is to reduce the negro to the level of the southern states and perpetuate the domination of the republican party in congress. The republican party does not care a rap for the rights of the negro, politically or otherwise, but it wants to use him to help maintain that supremacy which its grasping leaders believe to be seriously threatened."

STRIKERS AWED

BY STATE POLICE

Situation at Philadelphia Seems to Be Better.

Cars Operated at Night for the First Time Since Strike—President Taft Orders that the Mail Cars Be Given Protection.

STEPS TAKEN BY TAFT

TO PROTECT MAIL CARS

Washington, February 24.—Acting under directions from the president, Attorney General Wickham today sent to United States District Attorney J. Whitaker Thompson, at Philadelphia, instructions as to the protection of mail agencies during the strike of the street car men.

President Taft today received telegrams from Peter Driscoll, president, and H. D. Barron, secretary, of the union at Philadelphia, stating that the union men on strike had offered their services for the operation of the mail and newspaper cars, as was done in last year's strike, and that the company had refused the offer.

Philadelphia, Pa., February 24.—Surface cars were operated on the principal streets of the city until midnight tonight for the first time since the beginning of the present strike against the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company. Since the strike began on Saturday of last week, all cars were withdrawn from service at nightfall, but tonight, guarded by members of the state police, the cars continued to run even through the turbulent mill districts of Kensington and Frankford.

No Serious Outbreak.

Although the transit company officials reported tonight that eighty-four cars had been stoned during the day, no disturbance was permitted to attain serious proportions. All outbreaks were quickly quelled by the police, and not a riot call was sent to headquarters.

During the day, according to the company's figures, 744 cars were in operation, and 56 of these continued to run until midnight. Increased service is promised by the company, which announces that 400 new men, many of whom were formerly in the employ of the company, were hired today, and will take over cars tomorrow.

STATEMENT MADE

BY GOV. BROWN

Chief Executive Says He

Will Report to the Legislature.

Governor Brown yesterday issued a brief statement in reply to a recent news article which appeared in an afternoon paper and an editorial on this same news article in the same paper. He had been asked his reasons for a delay in making his report to the legislature, as authorized by the legislature, for use as terminals by the Western and Atlantic railroad. He stated, in reply, that he had not bought the land, did not propose to use it, and had no further reasons to give at this time.

The editorial comment upon this reply was to the effect that the people were doubting his reasons for not making the purchase and would hardly be satisfied with this reply. Governor Brown's statement in this regard is as follows:

"The editor of The Atlanta Journal is laboring under the misconception that he is the people of Georgia, whereas he is only one of about 230,000 white male citizens, either one of whose opinion or demand is as weighty as his. Coupled with this misconception is his impression that it is the duty of the governor of Georgia to report to the legislature the results of his administration. It is the duty of the governor to report to the general assembly. That body will convene on the last Wednesday of next June."

In the meantime, speaking quite personally, I will state that on June 4, 1908, the sovereign people of Georgia gave me an order not to report to The Atlanta Journal. That order I can be depended to obey."

ONLY GAMBLERS FIGHT MEASURE

So Says Townsend of Taft's Railroad Bill.

Townsend Declares That the Measure is Being Fought by Men Who Want to Make Real Money Out of Wind and Water.

Washington, February 24.—"The speculators, the men who want to make real money out of wind and water, are the only people objecting to the provision of the administration bill making railroad securities of value."

This statement was made today by Representative Townsend, of Michigan, author of the administration railroad measure which bears his name. In discussing the charge that there was a joker in the bill which would enable the big railroads to float their stocks and bonds and prevent the little ones from doing so.

Knows of No Joker.

"If there is a 'joker' there," he continued, "I don't know it, and you will have to convince me of its presence. The proposition narrows itself down finally to this: You either want to regulate railroads or you do not."

"If you regulate them, the first thing to do is to make the paper they issue represent some tangible value, so that investors may know what they are buying. If you don't regulate, why let them continue as they have in the past, and issue just as many millions' worth of stock based on hot air and prospects as they think they can sell. If I had money to invest today, do you think I would buy railroad paper? I would not."

To Bar Wildcat Schemes.
"The assertion that the paragraph relating to the selling of stocks and bonds will make it possible for only established corporations to build in new territory is ridiculous. It may, however, prevent some of the wildest, sheep-stealing schemes from materializing, and we hope it will. It is for that very purpose that the bill is drawn."

LIVINGSTON WORKS FOR MILITARY ROAD

He Urges Bill to Allow the Use of Federal Prisoners.

Washington, February 24.—(Special.)—Representatives Livingston and Adamson appeared before the house committee on military affairs today and urged favorable action on the bill to use prisoners at the United States penitentiary at Atlanta in the construction of a military road from Fort McPherson to the rifle range at Waco, Ga.

The committee was crowded, and other delegations were present to be heard, so at the request of Chairman Hull, further discussion of the project went over until the committee meeting on next Tuesday.

At the next meeting, Colonel Livingston will also go to Atlanta to explain the explanation of the measure to appropriate $2,000 to survey the battlefields around Atlanta.

CORDELE POLITICS WARM.

Never Before Have So Many Candidates Announced.

Cordele, Ga., February 24.—(Special.) Politics has already commenced to wax warm in Cordele county, and especially around Cordele, which is the center of interest, mainly, perhaps, because of the fact that most of the many candidates who have announced for the different offices live here.

There will be more than one participant for nearly all the different offices in the approaching primary, and it is predicted that some of the races will be close-run.

People, in consequence, have ever since been victims of lard-cooked food and indigestion. Lard-soaked food is not fit for human stomachs because lard is made from greasy, indigestible hog fat, and is bound, sooner or later, to make trouble for your inner machinery.

Cottolene is the only rational, national shortening. It is a pure, vegetable product, and its source (the cotton fields of the Sunny South) is in striking contrast to the source of lard—and there is just as much difference in the healthfulness of the two products as in their sources.

Cottolene makes food that any stomach can digest—palatable, nutritious and healthful. If American housewives but knew the superiority of Cottolene over lard, both from a practical and health standpoint, lard would never again enter any well-regulated kitchen.

TO MAKE FIRST TEST OF FLYING MACHINE

Athens Man Will Make
First Flights Secretly.

Ben T. Eppes. Will Construct Large Aeroplane if His First Model Flies Successfully—Machine Carried to Country.

Athens, Ga., February 24.—(Special.) The slight yesterday afternoon of a full-rigged monoplane, trimly built and equipped with a powerful engine, and apparently all ready for a trip through the upper regions of the ether, on the city streets, was in itself something unusual, but the sight of a monoplane, carefully loaded on a dory, just like a piece of stage furniture, is the most novel sight seen here in some time.

The flying machine, which has been built entirely in this city, was constructed by Ben T. Eppes, at his automobile garage, and is the second machine that the local inventor has constructed. He has tested it with a light and small horse powered motor, and is confident that his machine will sail easily.

The loading of the monoplane, fully rigged out for a flight, on the dory, which attracted so much comment on the streets yesterday, was for the purpose of transporting it to the country nearby, where, if the weather continues good, Eppes will make an effort to fly in the machine of his own construction. He has fitted it out with a more powerful motor, having a 4-cylinder, 20-horse power engine in it now, and will try to soar from the ground after the manner of the Wright brothers.

His trial will be in secret, and the results will be announced shortly, and if he is able to succeed with the monoplane, Eppes has announced that he will commence the construction of a larger machine, and will secure a much more powerful flying machine engine. There is much interest in the trial of the alrship, and there are many citizens who have faith in Eppes' ability to succeed with his monoplane.

THIRD DEGREE ORDEAL TO BE INVESTIGATED

Senator Heyburn Introduces Resolution Asking for Probe.

Washington, February 24.—A resolution was introduced in the senate today by Senator Heyburn providing for a select committee of three to investigate "the practice of administering what is known as the third degree ordeal by officers of the law for the purpose of extorting statements and confessions from those charged with crime."

Mr. Heyburn said he had read an account of the methods said to have been resorted to by the Atlantic City police to obtain a confession from William Hamm, charged with the murder of Jane Adams. He asserted that such methods were more cruel than those of the inquisition. They are in direct conflict with the American institutions under which an officer is prohibited from talking with his prisoner on the subject of the charge against him, he said.

The resolution was referred to the committee on judiciary.

FIALA TO TELL OF CONQUEST OF POLE

Anthony Fiala will arrive in Atlanta early this morning direct from New York city to fill his engagement at the Auditorium this evening as the eighth number on the Auditorium Lyceum course. The patrons of this course, as well as the general public in Atlanta, have been very anxious to hear and see something first hand regarding "The Conquest of the North Pole," and Mr. Fiala is the first one to bring it, and it goes without saying that he will be greeted by one of the largest audiences of the season this evening.

The lecture will be beautifully illustrated with both motion pictures and painted views, all of which were made by Mr. Fiala himself during his two visits to the Polar regions. The illustrations of scenes along the route pursued by Mr. Fiala are all reproduced from the explorer's original photographic negatives, and include the only series of moving pictures of real polar scenes in existence. They are intensely and thrillingly realistic.

Paper and ink are inadequate, however, to illustrate the atmospheric brilliancy and realistic effect of the pictures upon the screen. Many of them are projected in colors in the full splendor of polar splendor, and all are shown under the added charm of intelligent description by the explorer, whose efforts have made it possible to place them before the eyes of the public. The pictures are beautifully colored, and are acknowledged by experts to be the best Arctic photographs to date.

Mr. Fiala was official photographer on the first Ziegler expedition, and made such a record that Mr. Ziegler put him in command of the second expedition, during which he added to his splendid set of illustrations. Several thousand pictures were taken, but several hundred of the best ones are all that can be shown during a lecture.

A program by the Fifth Regiment Band will entertain the audience while gathering, this evening, from 7:30 to 8:30. The lecture will begin promptly at 8:30. Admission to those who do not hold season tickets will be $1. Tickets may be had at 415 English-American building, or at the door of the Auditorium tonight.

OFFICER'S TRUE AIM AVERTS A RIOT

He Killed Negro Fugitive Who Was Shooting at Posse.

Memphis, Tenn., February 24.—The true aim of Patrolman W. D. Lee ended a running pistol duel between a posse of police and citizens and James Bellamy, negro roustabout, of Cairo, Ill., late today, which, for a time, threatened to develop into a disorder of serious proportions. As it was the bullet which killed the negro was fired just as he had leveled his weapon on a member of the posse who had fallen on an ice-coated sidewalk.

Bellamy and another negro quarreled this afternoon over a 15-cent debt and the other party to the controversy was shot and slightly wounded. Bellamy took to his heels and, when pressed by the police and citizens who gave chase, turned and fired several shots. The fire was returned, but all of the bullets went wild and the pursuit continued; when one of the posse fell, however, Bellamy stopped, and as he was taking a deliberate aim, Lee fired, the bullet striking a vital part and killing the fugitive. The shooting occurred in a section of the city densely populated by negroes and, until the arrival of police reserves, responding to a riot call, excitement ran high. Crowds were quickly dispersed, however, the negro's body was removed and the affair ended.

SOCIETY MEETS TONIGHT TO FIGHT VACCINATION

Several Hundred Members Already Secured for the Organization.

With a signed membership of several hundred, the Georgia Anti-Compulsory Vaccination Society will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in rooms 415 and 416, Austell building, for the purpose of effecting an organization and appointing committees to begin an active campaign for the repeal of compulsory vaccination laws in Georgia. The movement has a large and enthusiastic following and as it proposes to suggest something better than vaccination as a preventive to disease, the public will, no doubt, take a decided interest in the question which is already up for discussion.

CARROLL DROPPED DEAD FROM HEART FAILURE

Verdict of Inquest Over Railroad Watchman Found Dead in Booth.

Death from heart trouble was the finding of the coroner's jury which held an inquest yesterday morning over the body of W. W. Carroll, the Wells street crossing watchman of the Southern road, who was found dead in his booth Wednesday at noon.

Mr. Carroll was 55 years of age and for a number of years had been afflicted with heart disease. No one witnessed his demise, and the inquest was held in order to clear up any possible doubt as to the real cause.

Funeral services were conducted at the late residence, 28 Eads street, at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, and the body was laid to rest in West View cemetery. A wife and eight children survive the deceased. He had been in the employ of the Southern road for a long number of years.

Killed at Crossing.

Memphis, Tenn., February 24.—Thomas Green, a member of the Memphis police department, in alighting from a street car last night fell into a pit at a railroad crossing and, before he could arise, was struck by a switch engine and killed.

A Physician's Faith in Tuberculosis Medicine

"Have used it in several cases of tubercular glands of the neck, with excellent results every time. In one case it cost me $50, for the girl was put on it only until she could arrange to be operated, and in a week, short time an operation was not needed. I suppose your records are just as fine as of old. You know my faith in the medicine."

HANDCUFF KING BREAKS JAIL

Lets 14 Other Prisoners Take Liberty.

C. A. Conlin, Alias H. R. Daniels, Escaped From the Hot Springs Prison Wednesday. Has Not Been Captured.

Hot Springs, Ark., February 24.—C. A. Conlin, alias H. R. Daniels, and known professionally as "Professor Asto, the Handcuff King," who last night broke from the county jail, leading fourteen prisoners to liberty with him, is still at large. Tonight armed posses are tramping over the mountains and along country roads, but prospects are small that he will be captured in this vicinity, if at all.

Escape Well Planned.

Conlin's escape was well planned. Early in the evening an aged man, a physician he declared himself, suddenly called on an important case, some miles in the country, hurriedly arranged with a local liveryman for a vehicle and driver to be returned at daylight. Late this afternoon a mud-splattered buggy, towed by a team of horses and the negro driver, wandered back to Hot Springs, the negro telling a hazy story, disconnected by a gap of some hours. He had some whisky, he said, soon after he drove away with the supposed medical man, and then he dozed. When he awoke the morning, far beyond the Ouachita river, he was told to return home by the "doctor" and another man, presumably Conlin. With this vague information the authorities are proceeding with the search tonight.

Conlin was held here on a charge of larceny alleged to have been committed in San Francisco. His escape from jail last night followed habeas corpus proceedings in which it was held that Conlin must return to California, but his removal was delayed by an appeal because of a possible technical fault with the papers of requisition.

"Spook Child" Released.

C. B. Conlin, brother of the man who was arrested last night, together with Bella Martell, known as the "Spook Child," were released today. They denied complicity in the escape.

None of the prisoners who escaped with Conlin have been captured, the authorities devoting their whole attention to Conlin.

REV. OMRI S. TALLENT EXPELLED FROM SCHOOL

Action of the Faculty Follows Fight at Atlanta Bible School.

Rev. Omri S. Talient, of Missouri, under six months' suspension as a senior student of the Atlanta Bible school was summarily expelled from the institution by action of the faculty yesterday morning, following the difficulty Wednesday between Talient and Rev. Dr. Rolfe Hunt, president of the school, and pastor of the Central Congregational church.

Talient's attentions to his fiancée, Miss Fern Hambrick, a 16-year-old Texas girl, in violation of the rules of the institution, lay back of his suspension, the difficulty with Dr. Hunt, against whom he brought counter charges, and his ultimate expulsion by the faculty.

The young Missouri minister declares that he will ask for an investigation of his case, and says he intends to seek vindication for "being kicked unceremoniously out of the Bible school."

Dr. Hunt, in a statement given out to the press, declares Mr. Talient a "back-slidden young minister who has lost his head."

"Several misstatements appeared in the reports furnished by Rev. O. S. Talient regarding the trouble Wednesday, but I have not time to argue these minor matters with a back-slidden young minister, who has lost his head."

"But I do want to put heaven, earth and hell on notice that I intend to protect the females in my care from interference and slander. If it costs me the last drop of blood in my heart and the last ounce of flesh in my body, I can endure much, but there are some things no man can submit to without ceasing to be a man."

"Black-Eyed Susan" Selected.

Tampa, Fla., February 24.—Representative bankers from every state in the south gathered here today and formed the Southern Bankers' Association. Sigo Myers, of Savannah, was elected president and Lawrence S. Kemp, of the United States treasury department, with headquarters in Tampa, was elected secretary.

Representative Vreeland, of the national monetary commission, was on the program for an address, but he did not arrive in time. He delivered his views on the national currency problems tonight at a banquet given the visiting bankers at the Tampa Bay hotel. The actual work of the convention will be done tomorrow, when several important papers will be read and the bankers' side of the postal savings banks discussed.

ALDERMEN TURN DOWN CONTRACT FOR CEMENT

Action of the Council Not Concurred In—Matter Goes Back to Council.

At a meeting of the aldermanic board yesterday afternoon the action of council in awarding the contract for sewer cement to Sciple Sons was not concurred in. This ended the matter back to council. The bid of Sciple Sons was 42 1/2 cents per hundred pounds. It was held that this bid was made after the Portland Cement Company had first made the lowest bid.

The board adopted the report of a contract with the Georgia Railway and Electric Company, allowing policemen and firemen to ride free this year.

The action of council was concurred in in deciding a lot in Oakland cemetery to the heirs of B. R. Bomar, the second mayor. The body of Mr. Bomar was removed to the lot some time ago.

ALLIGATOR SKIN PASSES FOR TAFT AND SHERMAN

San Johnson Prepares Hand-some Favors for President and Vice President.

Chicago, February 24.—Alligator skin with a bit of real 14-karat gold, will contribute to the making of the 1910 annual passes to be extended President Taft and Vice President Sherman by B. B. Johnson, president of the American League.

The alligator scored the most points yesterday and will be forwarded to Washington in the near future.

In an effort to get away from the ordinary color scheme, President Johnson hunted long and tirelessly for the newest effect in passbook bindings. The alligator scored the most points and two beautiful designs were arranged.

HOME IS PROPOSED FOR VICE PRESIDENT

Appropriation May Be Included in Public Buildings Bill.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, February 24.—(Special.)—Whether or not the program for an economical passage of the cabinet office, the passage of an omnibus public buildings bill is now being worked out by the house committee and the president.

This is one of the few pork barrel bills and is always eagerly desired by representatives. A ten, twenty or fifty-thousand-dollar appropriation for a new public building is concrete evidence of congressional activity.

A home for the vice president is one of the projects the committee is

Lovely Imported Fabrics for Evening Wear

We hardly know how to begin to describe these beautiful things. There's so much in the colorings and the exquisite fineness of texture that mere printer's ink falls far short of giving you a very definite idea of their loveliness.

We've never had such pretty things before. When we look at their soft, shimmery, shiny folds and exquisitely beautiful color combinations, we marvel at the skill of the makers and the wonderful mechanism of the looms that can fashion such things. Truly a master mind and a master hand are behind them.

Here's an imported Marquisette spangled with silver. It comes in black, white, pink, light blue, maize and lavender. It is 44 inches wide and costs $1.75 the yard.

Chiffon cloths are shown in all sorts of new designs—warp print florals, all-over florals, sequin-studded or spangled with crystal dew drops, embroidered in delicate-toned florals. One particularly lovely piece is white with a deep border of pale pink roses and green leaves, the entire border spangled with pearl drops in conventional design.

Chiffon cloths spangled with crystal bugles come in lavender, pink and ciel. These are 44 inches wide and cost $3.00 the yard. Crystal-drop spangles on lavender, pink, maize, ciel and Nile chiffon cloth, 44 inches wide, costs $2.50 the yard.

Spangled chiffon cloths, in imported suit patterns, range from $15 to $35. There are many designs among these. One of the most striking is of creamy white chiffon cloth with a deep border in a grape design. In old blue tones, with the bunches of grapes embroidered in chenille, this is a remarkably stunning pattern. We also have this design in green. This pattern is $35.00.

An imported pattern in Nile green satin cashmere shows a deep brocade border of large pink, blue and lavender carnations worked into an odd design with white plumes. This material is 54 inches wide. The pattern is $100.

Another imported pattern is of white satin cashmere with an all-over brocade design in Dresden flowers and white plumes. This one is $95.

In fabrics for street and afternoon dresses Foulards are very strong. We have splendid Foulards for 59c, 85c and $1.00 the yard. The 85c and $1.00 qualities are waterproof. An imported Foulard, 44 inches wide, comes in suit patterns of reseda and rose ashes shades with an all-over design in creamy white. This is a very new and rather odd design. Very beautiful. $35 a suit.

An especially good value we're offering is a Pongee, 27 inches wide, regular 75c quality, for 57c.

Tuscan Pongees, double width, with borders, are new and very smart for tunic dresses. All colors.

Crepe de Chines hold their own. For the new draped dresses, this is one of the highly favored fabrics. We have it in all shades, light and dark. 24 inches wide for $1.00.

In dress goods Voiles, Tamise cloth, Batistes, Grenadines, Tussah Royals, Ottoman Royals, Epingles, all-wool Henriettas are strong.

Come in and see these fascinating new things. We're adding to our stock daily, so you'll always find brand-new things.

His will be the last address of the evening.

Need Census-Takers. Macon, Ga., February 24.—(Special). It is learned from the census office in Macon that there is not a sufficient number of persons qualified for taking the census, owing to the failure of a large percent to pass the examinations. A misunderstanding as to the length of time allowed for standing in the rural districts is said to have worked the undoing of a large number of the applicants and now, especially in the rural districts, more persons are needed than have passed the examinations. Just what will be done is not yet decided.

WHITE WASH COAT FOR TARIFF

Lodge to Tailor Garment in the Food Inquiry.

Senator Says Cotton, Which Is Not Protected, Has Advanced, While Sugar, Which Is Protected, Has Declined. But He Promises to Be Fair.

Newark, N. J., February 24.—Facts, not opinions, are to form the basis on which the senate committee appointed to inquire into the prices of commodities and into rates of wages will act. This declaration was made by Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, chairman of the committee, in an address delivered before the Newark board of trade.

The speaker asserted further that "the facts will be collected and given out without any reference to any preconceived ideas, and without any regard as to what or whom it will help or hurt. We shall hew to the line," he said, "and let the chips fall where they will."

Whatever the facts show will be stated by the committee, said the senator, without any "attempt either to blacken, to whitewash or to mislead. Sugar is in the hands of a trust or combination, and is highly protected. Neither the trusts nor the tariff are present in the case of cotton. The trust is present, and the tariff absent in the oil case. Both the tariff and trust control are present in the case of sugar.

"Now let us consider the facts in regard to the prices of these articles. Taking 100 as the basis in 1899, the advance in cotton has ranged from 31 to 84 points. It was 59 points higher in 1908 than 1899, and it is still higher at the present time. Petroleum, starting with 100 as a basis in 1899, has advanced 33 points in ten years; sugar during the same time has declined 19 points.

"I made no comment on these facts, and offer no opinions. I leave it to you to point out the cause of the movement of prices in these three articles, which will meet every case. "This is not a question, nor is it a time for reckless haste or violence," said Senator Lodge in conclusion, "but it is a time and occasion for firmness and for justice, for a determination to extirpate with a relentless hand the evils born of greed and unscrupulousness which tamper with the food supply of the people or with the necessities of life, if laws can be framed to do it."

LOOSE SCREWS IN LID OF SWOPE'S COFFIN

Attorneys for Hyde Think Body Was Tapered With After Burial.

Kansas City, February 24.—The testimony of R. B. Mitchell, an undertaker's assistant, who said today that several screws in the lid of Colonel Thomas M. Swope's coffin were loose when the body was removed for an autopsy is regarded as highly important by the attorneys of Dr. B. C. Hyde.

While Dr. Hyde's attorneys will not state positively that they will claim the body was tapered with after it was placed in the vault, they admit they will make use of Mitchell's statement. "There will have to be some explaining," said Judge W. T. Johnson, one of Dr. Hyde's legal advisers.

Mitchell's testimony was taken today by Dr. Hyde's attorneys in connection with the slander suit brought by the physician against John G. Paxton, an executor of the Swope estate. After Mitchell had testified, C. A. Lyon, another assistant undertaker, told about fastening the lid of the coffin following the funeral.

ENGLAND'S CASSIE CHADWICK DOOMED TO 5 YEARS IN THE PEN

London, February 24.—In the Derby assize court Violet Gordon Chadesworth and her mother were each sentenced to five years' penal servitude for obtaining money under false pretenses and for fraudulently representing that the younger woman was an heiress to a great estate. The judge, in passing sentence, referred to Violet's remarkable ingenuity, which, he said, properly applied, might have won for her an honorable, if not a distinguished, career.

Both prisoners collapsed in the dock on hearing the verdict. Violet Gordon Chadesworth disappeared last February after a meteoric career in high finance, in the course of which, on the strength of a mythical fortune of $2,500,000, she borrowed many thousands of dollars, one brokerage firm alone admitting that she owed it $50,000. She was importuned by her creditors, and then the report was spread that she had been killed while automobiling in the neighborhood of Pannmawr, Wales. Investigation proved this to be untrue and ten days later she was arrested with her mother at Oban, Scotland. One of the most remarkable features of the girl's career is that she is the daughter of a mechanic and possesses only limited education, having had absolutely no worldly experience prior to her excursions into high finance.

DRUNKARDS AND DRUG FIENDS BEING CURED BY CINCINNATI

Cincinnati, February 24.—As the first result of the new system adopted here for the treatment of drunkards and victims of the drug habit, the Rev. George Waverly Briggs was discharged from the workhouse as cured of the morphine habit. The clergyman, who is well known in the Methodist church, was arrested some weeks ago for the theft of a package of pence. He was convicted of petty larceny and pleaded that he had been made a morphine "fiend" by physicians who had treated him for a nervous disorder.

Under a new regime, inaugurated by Mayor Schwab, drunkards and drug fiends are treated scientifically instead of being considered prisoners of the criminal class. After three weeks in the workhouse under medical care, Dr. Briggs is discharged as cured and will lecture on the Methodist Chautauqua summer circuit. Dr. Briggs is said to have been at one time chaplain of the Texas legislature and later to have held an important church position at Owensboro, Ky.

GEORGIA AND MERCER TO PLAY TWO GAMES
Macon, Ga., February 24.—(Special). There will be only two games of baseball between Mercer and Georgia this season, although it has been the custom in the past for Georgia, Tech and Mercer to play a series of three games with each other to decide the state championship. The University of Georgia and Mercer were unable to arrange a football game last fall, and for awhile it seemed though the two colleges were not to meet in baseball this season, as every date offered by Mercer for games was refused, but following a personal visit by Manager Brown, of the Georgia team to Macon, and Manager Tift, of Mercer, to Athens, two games were arranged between the colleges, one in Macon on April 5, and one in Athens for April 18. Mercer is scheduled for three games with Tech, and if Tech and Georgia tie in games won, with Mercer winning a majority of the games against Tech and Georgia, the Georgia manager will possibly arrange another game with the Mercer team.

ATLANTA, GA., February 25, 1910.

Cheer up, little consumer! The tall wags the comet.

Mr. Taft hits the newspapers. So did Mr. Roosevelt.

Europe needs more than one strenuous Roosevelt lecture.

The heavenly angels are not in the way of the aeroplanes in Texas.

The majority campaign is young,
hence the evidence of growing pains.

Verily, it is the day of the American hog, but he's too dead to know it.

If the cheap cuts are more satisfying, rubber steak ought to stretch far.

In Philadelphia they appear to be serving brotherly love with a brick-bat.

Mr. Taft should not let his angry passions rise because everything else is so high.

Senator Dewey read "Washington's Farewell Address," but it conveyed no hint to him.

Congress asks North Pole proofs of Peary. What congress needs most is a red-hot fire to thaw it.

Mr. Fairbanks caused but one mild sensation while running around the world like a ringworm.

Of what avail is Dr. Wiley's cook book as a premium to the man who is too weak to raise the price?

Latest definition of a democrat: A man who lives in Texas and thinks Joe Bailey is Bible for "President."

There will always be work for Uncle Joe. For instance, he might cultivate a garden and a retiring disposition.

And there is oil on the comet—another evidence of how high it may rise when it has the opportunity.

This may be "the best country this side of Heaven," but wing-feathers come pretty high for its Easter angels.

However, if grouchy Winter persists in pinching Spring's cheeks, they'll soon be as pink as a peach blossom.

An Ohio man killed by the bite of a camel. And consider the people that are suffering from the bite of the meat-trust cow.

Charleston is to have a sky-scraper, and she will discover that there is nothing quite so good as getting acquainted up there.

The Long Island man who is the father of twenty-eight children should be placed on the Roosevelt reception committee.

Mr. Fairbanks has the gratitude of the little children of the world. He hasn't killed any animals that ought to be in the circus.

As to the president's appetite, it may be true that he is "always hungry," but why should he select a poor newspaper man for a roast?

The poor man is informed that the cheapest cuts of meat are the best.
But since it takes a French chef to dress them presentably, what's the use?

How shocked the Shade of Washington must have been to hear the modern patriots singing: "My Office,
'tis of thee—sweet place reserved for me."

THE NEUTRAL ZONE OF THE PRESIDENT.

"Hypercriticism," "hysteria" and "hypocrisy" are some of the more pungent terms used by President Taft in his Newark speech in voicing his view of press criticisms of his administration.

In previous addresses he has given plain intimations of resentment of the manner in which his policies and methods were being "hammered," but never has he gone so far as in the New Jersey utterance.

The president's feeling in the matter is entirely natural, under the circumstances. He has had to bear the brunt of attacks, not alone from the democratic press, but as well from a large contingent of the press of his own party, many of the hide-bound republican papers manifesting a tendency to cease all efforts to see good in his administration.

Making due allowance for the inevitable chafing against such conditions, it remains that Mr. Taft has, to the unbiased observer, taken rather an aggravated view of the situation. To be sure, his administration has been plentifully assailed, especially in the last four months, by papers of all shades of opinion and affiliation.

On the other hand, he has not lacked for defenders. Many of the fairer democratic organs have pleaded that he be given more time before being brought to the bar of judgment; many republican papers have pursued the same general course and a tolerance of spirit has not been lacking in those papers of independent attitude.

The feature that perhaps most galls the president is the mixed nature of the defense the papers of his own party are putting up for him. Almost singular in American history is the spectacle of national journalism occupying rather a judicial angle, or, at least, one suggesting suspended judgment.

Many presidents have had their outright and uncompromising critics, and as many others their outright and unqualifying partisans. But this president has, thus far, seemed able only to effect a kind of neutral zone in the line of editorial comment.

Painstaking analysis would likely disclose the temperament of Mr. Taft himself, as well as the peculiarly unprecedented nature of the manner of his accession, as reasons contributory to the existing tangle.

In the end, the tangle must inevitably resolve itself in one direction or the other.

In the meantime, we imagine it is rather tedious and exasperating waiting to a man who, ignoring all superficial strictures passed upon him, we believe to be intrinsically genuine and well-meaning.

WIDEN STEWART AVENUE.

When traffic conditions, long prior to the Speedway races last November, made apparent the necessity for widening the entrance to Stewart avenue from Whitehall to Wells street, a distance of approximately 1,000 feet, The Constitution promptly took up the matter editorially, and urged that council should make provision for this essential improvement as speedily as conditions would permit.

More than four months have passed and nothing has been done, but report comes now that property owners on this part of the street propose to take the matter up with council and to insist that the necessary steps be taken to make a street out of this portion of the avenue instead of the alleyway which it practically is.

This entrance to Stewart avenue is the funnel for its traffic; more vehicles meet and pass each other here, perhaps, than on any other part of it.

Yet here, from Whitehall to Wells street, is a width of only thirty feet, from which sidewalks must be deducted, leaving but little more than twenty feet from curb to curb, while beyond Wells street and on out the avenue there is a good street width of fifty feet.

Does Atlanta propose to let this entrance to one of the most popular and most-used thoroughfares in Fulton county remain in perpetuity the alley that it is?

Moreover, this portion of Stewart avenue gives promise of becoming an important business street. Should this prospective development ensue, it is readily apparent how its traffic will be still further congested, making passage at times impossible.

For the enhanced value of their property, if from no other motive, the property owners along this strip of Stewart avenue should be gladly willing to give the small amount of land necessary to widen it to fifty feet.

It is said that most of them are willing to do so and that such a showing will be made to council when the matter is taken up with that body.

In any event, council should not let this improvement fail.

It should be done now, when it can be done easiest and at the least expense.

Practically the entire city is interested in this important improvement, and there is no apparent obstacle which should be permitted to stand in its way.

THE VITAL ATTITUDE OF THE FARMERS' UNION.

"God gave us these cotton lands, a goodly heritage, with the wise injunction: 'By the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread'—not make cotton to buy bread."

No more graphic delineation of the condition and the duty and the self-interest of the southern farmer could be outlined than in the foregoing sentence taken from the recent declaration of the acreage committee of the Georgia Farmers' Union.

The sentiment puts it squarely up to the farmer, whether or not a member of the union, to concentrate on cotton and invite loss, or to divide his efforts between cotton and foodstuffs and assure himself a virtual financial and industrial independence.

It is a policy for which The Constitution, in common with other analytical southern newspapers, has these years been pleading. Essentially, it holds the keynote controlling the prosperity of the southern farmer, which, in turn, means the prosperity of the entire south.

Though this special feature of the recent gathering in Atlanta of state and county officers and members of the Union stands out conspicuously, the convention did not lack in other significant and prophetic phases.

Of these, the more important were the record-breaking attendance, the fine personnel of the delegates, the spirit of enthusiasm and the evidence everywhere of an augmented regard for cool business methods.

These splendid characteristics gain fresh value from the fact that Georgia and the south are now facing what promises to be an unprecedented year, in the opportunity for prosperity and in diversified industrial and commercial growth. First, last and all the time, the material well-being of the section rests upon the status of the man of the acres. Since, through his representative organization, he is displaying a pervasive inclination to conserve the essentials of prosperity, all Dixie may with confidence magnify its hopes of a year of progress unparalleled.

The Constitution is, of the opinion that the farmers of other southern states can do no better than to adopt the platform of the Georgia division regarding less cotton and more food crops.

The proclamations of President Barrett give promise in this direction, since he is forcefully pointing out the dangerous invitation to disaster comprised in yielding to the lure of high cotton prices.

BUT WHY NOT PUBLIC ROADS?

In an evident fit of pique, The Philadelphia Enquirer denominates the proposal to spend $3,000,000 of government money, now about to pass congress, in the improvement of the Mississippi river and its tributaries, "The crime of the Mississippi."

If it had been proposed to put that $3,000,000 into waters about Pennsylvania, would it equally have been declared "The crime of the Delaware?"

Yet we doubt not that such sum, or greater, has already gone into those self-same waters.

This time, however, it happens that the Delaware is to get a comparatively small sum, while greater attention than heretofore is to be devoted to the Mississippi and its allied rivers.

But if $40,000,000 is to be expended upon rivers and harbors, if all of this money must necessarily go that way, then why not spend $3,000,000 of it upon the country's greatest and most important interior water course system?

If waterway development, to the exclusion of other internal improvements of equal, if not greater, value, is to remain the fixed national policy, certainly no river or harbor can lay greater claim to a large share of the fund than the waterway system in the Mississippi valley.

The Constitution is not disposed to criticize reasonable waterway improvements either in the Delaware or in the Mississippi; but we feel that we can, with manifest justice, emphasize our oft-repeated protest AGAINST ALL FOR WATERWAYS AND NOTHING FOR PUBLIC ROADS.

If the government has $40,000,000, and no more, to spend upon improvements of this character, we would be far more heartily in accord with that expenditure if it were divided with approximate equality between waterways and public roads.

There are two or three times as many people in this country more directly interested in the construction and improvement of public roads than in the development of waterways; they help pay the expense of the latter work and receive practically nothing in return.

There is a rapidly growing public sentiment in the direction of demand of recognition of the right of this majority of the population to participate in the benefits from the distribution of this improvement fund from the national treasury.

But at present, scarcely a dollar is expended by the government in the improvement of roads or in the furtherance of practical education—the two directions in which the government could, by such expenditure, contribute in greatest degree to the general good.

It may not come in a month or a year; but the time is not far distant when the force of that sentiment, then full-grown, will impel recognition from congress of these undoubted public rights.

THE FLY CAN SEE HIS FINISH.

Out of one or more of those myriad eyes with which we understand he is gifted, the ordinary, or garden variety, of American house-fly must surely perceive his approaching finish.

Candidly, he might as well efface himself from the map, or, if we may be permitted to daily with simile, to his himself to some convenient spot and gather himself unto his fathers.

We are led to these sweeping terms by the prospective campaign of the fly-committee of the American Civic Association. Recently this committee organized in Washington and laid plans to make war upon the fly by demonstrating his deadliness through moving picture shows in every portion of America.

This means that men and women given to attending theaters, from the expensive variety to the nickelodeon, will be continually compelled to gaze upon moving spectacles of the death and disease wrought by the Musca domestica, as well as to become familiar with the manner in which his loads and discharges his concealed weapons.

Two or three years of crusading of this nature, reinforced by publicity and efforts on part of health bodies, and the house-fly will loosen the death-grip he now has on the American population.

NEAR BEER SALOON

CLOSED BY RECORDER

Manager Berkstein and Five Negroes Held for Gaming in Saloon.

As the result of the arrest by the detectives of L. W. Berkstein, manager of a near beer saloon at 252 Decatur street, and five negroes Wednesday for playing "craps" together in the place, Recorder Broyles yesterday afternoon declared the saloon a nuisance and ordered it closed up at once.

Berkstein was bound over to the state court under $1,000 bond charged with gaming and keeping a gaming house, and the five negroes, Henry Lamar, Ben Sims, Sellsie Todd, John Graham and Richard Banks, were bound over under $100 each on the charge of gaming.

According to the testimony of the five detectives who made the raid, the five negroes were rolling dice on the counter, while Berkstein watched. The proprietor of a restaurant next door stated that he had seen Berkstein playing with negroes on many different occasions and told the recorder that this caused so much disorder that he was losing business as a result.

Alarm.

Tokio, February 24.—Special dispatches to the newspapers from the United States report a recrudescence of the anti-Japanese movement at San Francisco. Today all of the local papers featured a speech of Leslie A.
Shaw, former secretary of the treaty, at Morristown, N. Y., last Tuesday, in which he is reported as having declared that the United States and Japan was inevitable. The speech has caused a most gloomy impression among Japanese and foreigners alike.

The special correspondent Maj. Gen. J.
Franklin Bell has said that war between the two countries was likely to break out at any moment. The press and the public are unable to understand the reasons for these violent utterances.

A MARQUISE DE FONTENAY
WRITES OF FOREIGN COURTS

(Copyright, 1910, The Constitution.)
As young Sir Coleridge Kennard has proclaimed his intention of wedding the lady with whom he eloped, as soon as ever the decree of divorce just granted to her husband, Captain James Francis Buckley, of Castle Gorford, Carmarthen, is made absolute, it is to be feared that his diplomatic career will be brought to a premature close, since it will entail his surrender of the post of third secretary of legation, which he now fills at Tcheran, on the staff of Sir George Barclay. He was formerly attached at Rome, and was transferred to Tcheran by the foreign office, with the object of breaking off his infatuation for the lady in the case, who is some ten years older than himself. But it was too late, and while he may possibly be transferred to a clerical office in the foreign office, his career as a diplomat from the moment that he makes Mrs. Buckley his wife, will be at an end.

Made a Baronet at Five.
Sir Coleridge served for a time as a subaltern of the Grenadier guards before joining the diplomatic service, and enjoys the unique experience of having been created a baronet at the early age of 5. His grandfather, the late Coleridge J. Kennard, of Fernhill, near Southampton, was for a number of years member of parliament for Salisbury, one of the leading bankers of Lombard street, London, and one of the strongest and most generous supporters of the conservative cause.
It was in recognition thereof that he was nominated for a baronetcy. But before the peerage could be made out he died suddenly, and as his eldest son had predeceased him, the baronetcy was bestowed instead upon his 5-year-old grandson. At the same time, Queen Victoria conferred the title and precedence of the wife of a baronet upon the old banker's widow.

Much of the same procedure was followed in the case of the widow of William Patrick Adam, who died as governor of Madras, just as he was about to be created a baronet. The baronetcy being bestowed upon his son, Sir Charles Adam, now Lord Luttrell, of the county of Kinross, who was at the time of his father's death 22 or 23 years of age. The widow of Sir Henry Havelock, so celebrated in connection with his relief of Lucknow during the great Indian mutiny of 55 years ago, was likewise invested by Queen Victoria with the rank and precedence that she would have enjoyed had her husband lived to receive the baronetcy which the crown had decided to bestow upon him. It was conferred instead upon his eldest son, who was 2 at the time, along with a life annuity of $5,000.

Well Known in America.
Joseph Pease, who has just been appointed a member of the British cabinet, as chairman of the duchy of Lancaster, is the younger son of the late Sir Joseph Pease, who was so well known in this country, not only for his connection with one of the principal banking and mercantile houses in England, having extensive business connections with America, but also as the head of an old Quaker family that has many affiliations among the Friends in the United States. He was a particularly ardent supporter of Gladstone, and one of his strongest supporters. He came in for some criticism among the Quakers here and in England, for his connection with the Society of Friends, not only because titular distinctions are contrary to the spirit of Quakerism, but also by reason of the fact that baronetries specifically entail the obligation to furnish the king with a certain number of men, fully armed for service in the field, an obligation compromised by the payment of a certain lump sum on creation. This was held to be distinctly opposed to the principle of peace at all costs, which is one of the chief articles of the creed of the Society of Friends.

Founder of Pease Fortunes.
The founder of the fortunes of the Pease family was Edward Pease, the Quaker father of railroads, the most intimate associate of John G. Stearns in the creation of the Stockton and Darlington railroad, the first in England. His son, Joseph, was the creator of the fine iron bridge town of Middleborough, as well as the first Quaker member of parliament, his objection to taking the oath of allegiance to the Queen. He leads the many acrimonious debates. The business of the firm was an extensive one, comprising banking, coal mining, iron works, limestone quarries, etc., and its collapse in 1902 created a worldwide sensation. Sir Joseph was crushed thereby. Indeed, his death may be said to have resulted therefrom, since it broke not only his health, but also his spirits. He left barely $12,000.

His oldest son, the brother of the new chancellor, Sir Alfred Pease, who last year succeeded from the liberal party, in consequence of his disapproval of the financial measures of the present government, makes his home chiefly in East Africa, where last year he carried out the duties of president of the United States, on his immense estate of Kilima Thonk, on the Kilip plains, which are always swarming with game. Lord Dela-more, Lord Hindlip, Lord Carden, and Captain Van der Weyer, formerly of the Scotch army, he finds a free untrammelled open-air life of British East Africa, more congenial than that of England.

Sets Czar at Defiance.
Grand Duke Michael, only surviving brother of the czar, has set the latter's authority at such defiance that no surprise need be felt if news is received that measures of a startlingly severe character have been adopted toward him. It has been already mentioned that the grand duke has completely surrendered himself to his infatuation for the divorcee with a wife of a subaltern officer of the guards for whom he had been banished from St. Petersburg, and assigned to duty with a line regiment at Orel. While he has left St. Petersburg, where his presence had become intolerable, his attitude toward the czar, upon which he has been boycotted by his fellow officers, has absolutely ignored his brother's orders about remaining at Orel, and without paying the slightest attention to his military duties, is living openly with the lady at Moscow, driving about with her and showing himself with her at theaters and restaurants without any attempt at concealment. Many believe that they are already married. But if any ecclesiastical ceremony has taken place it will be invalid in the eyes of the church and state, and the czar will have to its failure to receive beforehand the sanction of the czar.

New Count of Flanders.
In these letters mentioned the other day that King Albert had bestowed the title of Duke of Brabant on his eldest boy. He has now conferred the title of count of Flanders upon the seven-year-old Prince Charles, the younger of his two sons. It was the title borne by the king's father up to the time of his death.

WILL ASK COUNCIL TO WIDEN STEWART AVENUE ENTRANCE

There is a well-defined plan on foot to petition council within the next few days to widen the entrance to Stewart avenue from Whitehall to Wells street an approximate distance of 1,000 feet.

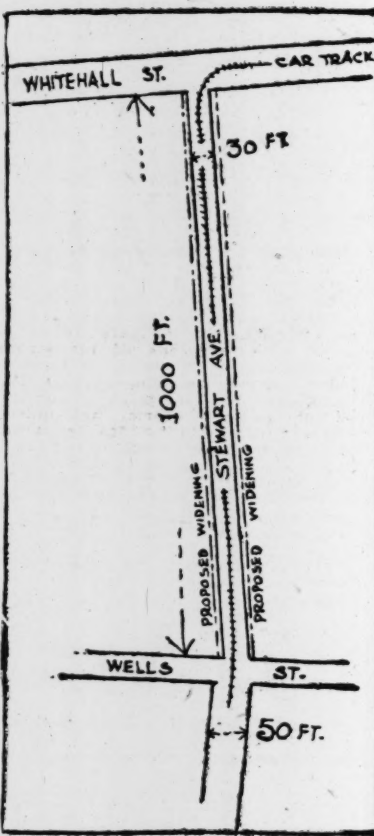

This portion of Stewart avenue is a 30-foot street, but deducting two sidewalks there remains only about 20 feet of width to the street from curb to curb. Down the center of this runs a street car track, and it has been demonstrated time and again that it is practically impossible for a moving street car and an automobile to pass each other—the automobile must hug the curb and come to a stop while the street car goes by.

But beyond Wells street Stewart avenue has a width of 50 feet or more, affording ample room for ordinary travel. Property owners on Stewart avenue are anxious that the entrance to it shall be widened—first, to give the necessary room for traffic, and, second, because it is farcical to maintain an entrance which is scarcely more than an alleyway to one of the city's and county's most magnificent boulevards and driveways.

If Stewart avenue, or that portion of it near Whitehall street, is to develop into a business street, of which there are indications, widening will be an absolute necessity to prevent serious blocking and congestion of traffic.

It is said that most of the property owners on this portion of the avenue are willing to give the necessary strip off their property on either side of the street to make it 20 feet wider. There are one or two, however, who seem opposed to giving the little land necessary for this important purpose.

Nevertheless, those interested in the project are now working upon it, and it is expected they will get it in shape to take it before council for consideration within the next day or two.

BECAUSE WIFE WOULDN'T PRAY HUSBAND IS GRANTED DIVORCE

Topeka, Kan., February 24.—Because his wife would not pray, A. F. Barker, 73 years old, was granted a divorce by the district court here yesterday. Mrs. Barker is 63 years old.

Barker testified that for forty-five years he had prayed and read the Bible after supper, but his wife would not bow her head. "She told me she was a Christian when we were married," said Barker. "but the Sunday after she would not go to church, nor did she go on the Sundays following. After supper she would not kneel when I prayed. When I asked her to kneel she said, 'It hurts my knees.'"

John E. Donahue, of Rockland, Me., who has charge of the petition for a pardon which will be presented to President Taft, made this announcement on his return from Washington today.

The petition for pardon will, it is expected, contain more than a million names by the time it is submitted to the president.

TALK OF DICKINSON FOR THE U. S. SENATE

Secretary of War May Be a Candidate in Tennessee.

Washington, February 24.—If Secretary Dickinson is a candidate for nomination as United States senator from Tennessee to succeed Senator Frazier upon the expiration of the latter's term in March next year, he is a purely receptive one.

Advices received here are to the effect that the canvass for the senatorship is already in full swing in Tennessee, and efforts have been made to induce the secretary to show his hand. So far these have not succeeded. The Tennessee legislature will meet next January to elect a successor to Senator Frazier.

EASTERN TIME FAVORED IN POLL

Chamber Chairmen Discuss Change.

Unofficial Poll Shows Sentiment in Favor of Giving Atlanta a New Time—Chamber of Commerce Will Soon Make Some Recommendation in Matter.

Fourteen to seven was the vote polled at the monthly luncheon of the committee of sixty chairmen of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce yesterday in favor of changing Atlanta's time from Central to Eastern time. Four of the chairmen present did not vote.

This was not an official action of this body, which had decided to hold the matter in abeyance for some time, to hear further discussion in regard to the important suggestion. The discussion had been in progress for some time before the latter action was taken. Then it was decided to notify the public that the Chamber of Commerce had this absorbing question in mind and would wait a while before making any recommendation in this regard in order to hear both sides.

It was then suggested that an unofficial poll be taken to see how those present felt in regard to the suggested change. As a result, 14 hands went up in favor of a change in the time, and when the contrary minded were called for, half that number responded.

From this talk, however, which preceded action, it was quite evident this matter will prove a most interesting one before the final action is taken.

At this luncheon, held at the Atlanta Athletic Club, the movement to increase the membership to 1,000 within the next 30 days was formally launched.

At the suggestion of Ben Lee Crew, chairman of the committee on membership, it was decided to allow each of the 60 committees in the Chamber of Commerce to nominate 10 firms, corporations or individuals for membership in this body. And from these nominations the elections, sufficient to fill out the desired membership, be had.

Secretary E. H. Hyman, of the Montgomery Commercial Club, appeared before this committee to outline the plans of a conference to be held in that city in March, and to request the appointment of a committee of ten from the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce to attend.

At this meeting, too, the dates for the meetings of the various committees was announced by Secretary Cooper.

BURNS TO LEAVE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

On April 1 He Will Take Up His Duties as Census Director.

Macon, Ga., February 24.—(Special.) Harry Burns, for more than a year secretary of the Macon chamber of commerce, and at present census supervisor for the sixth congressional district, will retire from active service with the chamber on April 1, and thereafter will be engaged in the census duties.

At a special meeting of the directors of the chamber yesterday afternoon plans were taken up with a Norfolk, Va., man, and he was engaged at a salary of $2,400 a year, to begin services immediately after Mr. Burns leaves the place.

The chamber directors have engaged a man, they say, capable of doing all the work of the secretary and the general promoting and advertising that will be needed for the business enlargement of the community.

THERE WILL BE RECOUNT OF VOTES FOR SENATOR

CONGRESS POLLED BY C. S. BARRETT

Farmers' Leader Uses Publicity as Weapon.

Every Representative and Senator Is Asked to State Position on Six Measures, and Farmers Are Urged to "Resolute" Less and Write More.

Full into the broad glare of publicity President C. S. Barrett, of the Farmers' Union, is taking the fight of that organization to rouse congress to action on cherished Farmers' Union measures.

To each representative and senator, he has written a personal letter inquiring his attitude on six leading issues. Not stopping here, he has made public this direct "line-up" of congress, accompanying it with a letter to members of his organization, urging them to do less "resolving" and to use more postage stamps in galvanizing their respective representatives and senators.

An interesting feature of the statement given out today is that it aligns the Farmers' Union squarely against the proposed central bank.

To Farmers.

Let's give "resolving" in Farmers' Union conventions, that is, as regards legislation, a rest for a little while and instead get in bold and direct or make it put into force so many of the resolutions we've passed.

I have been writing to the brethren much along this line lately and now, in addition to getting in behind congress personally, I am sending the following letter to every representative and senator in congress to ascertain their sentiment with regard to the measures we are passing.

This isn't the last letter I'm going to send, either. I'm going to write them time after time, early and often. But the result of this present letter will be to line-up the congressmen, from the biggest to the smallest, republicans, democrats, insurgents and the rest of them.

Brethren in national and state conventions are used to "resolving" before breakfast, between meals and they even get up in the middle of the night to "resolve" for or against some special measure. Upon these occasions, harmony prevails as at a love feast, the doves and only rises when it is scared by some unusually fiery denunciation of the farmers' wrongs, such as are embodied in a resolution.

We all agree on "resolving." Now let's put some of the energy spent this way into getting congress, as well as Farmers' Union conventions, to pass resolutions.

Get in on the ground floor on these measures, by asking the candidate for congress how he stands on them before you vote for him. Often he says "yes," make him stick to it if he's elected.

Here's the letter every senator and representative is shortly to receive; follow it up, once or twice a month, with one like it to your own representative and senator.

To Congress.

"Washington, D. C., Feb. 18, 1910.—Dear Sir: You are aware that during the current session of congress the Farmers' Union, consisting of 3,000,000 bona fide American farmers and farm workers, has maintained in Washington a legislative committee, in the interest of various national legislation of moment to the organization.

"It is proper to state, also, that by reason of the fact that the union has an organization, the nucleus of an organization or strong sympathizers in every American community, its attitude on public policy truthfully represents the attitude of the farmer-at-large in this country.

"You will, therefore, see the unprecedented nature of this appeal coming up to the lawmakers of America from the farmers of America—for the first time in the history of either.

"The Farmers' Union, the American farmer generally, without regard to location, is interested fundamentally and vitally in the following six great issues, to which others are to be added:

"1. Abolishing gambling in farm products.

"2. Securing, without delay, a parcels post.

"3. Securing, without delay, postal savings banks.

"4. Securing, without delay, more stringent legislation along the line of restricting foreign immigration.

"5. Securing the defeat of the proposed central bank.

"6. More liberality in national appropriations toward agricultural projects.

The farmer supports America; he is the hope of America. Yet more attention is paid both to battleships and waterways than to the American farmer.

"As a representative of the people-at-large, and particularly as the representative of your immediate constituents, whether representative or senator, you have undoubtedly formed an opinion regarding the merits of these issues, and many of you have probably heard from home regarding them.

"The object of this letter is to secure for the purpose of record, for publication and for information aiding us in our campaign for and against these measures, the attitude of each individual congressman.

"Kindly answer me, care of the National Hotel, Washington, D. C., how you stand on the six issues outlined.

"Our 3,000,000 members and sympathizers everywhere are anxiously waiting upon the action of congress; they are confidently awaiting news of this congressional poll that they may know the status of their hopes.

"Is it asking too much to let me hear from you, as soon as possible, in Washington?

"Very truly yours,
"C. S. BARRETT,
"National President."

JAUNTY WALKING CANES SPORTED BY SENIORS

Custom of Big Eastern Universities Will Be Adopted by Athens.

Athens, Ga., February 24.—(Special.) The members of the senior class, both academic and law, of the University of Georgia appeared this morning sporting jaunty walking canes, and it seems that the custom of some of the big eastern universities will probably be adopted.

Some time ago the upper classmen held a meeting and decided that certain privileges should be accorded the seniors and juniors, while the freshmen should be decorated with red caps in order to keep them in a proper realization of their lack of experience in the college world. The indignant freshmen have refused to follow this mandate, and the chances are that they will not obey the mandate of the upper classes.

But the seniors have adopted the custom of carrying canes, and even in the classrooms the jaunty sticks, inscribed with the class numerals, 1910, on the silver heads, are their inseparable companions.

Take the Post-Office Out of Politics

In attempting to charge up the deficit in his Department against the magazines the Postmaster-General has done the country a genuine, even if an unintentional, service. He has drawn attention to the necessity for a thorough reorganization of the Postal Department. He has emphasized the importance of taking the Post-Office out of politics for all time.

The Fifty-ninth Congress authorized an investigation of postal affairs, and a joint commission, headed by Senator Penrose and Representative Overstreet, made a thorough investigation of the whole subject. As a result, the Overstreet bill, which contains many excellent recommendations, was presented. It is not from guesswork that we have concluded that the Department is in need of radical reorganization, but from the official reports of this Joint Congressional Postal Commission and of the disinterested accountants hired by it to investigate the business methods of the Department. We quote from these reports, remembering that the findings and criticisms are not ours, but those of a Congressional Commission and its authorized agents. First read these recommendations from the preliminary report of the Joint Postal Commission, in this week's number of

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST

Then read these extracts from the report of the public accountants employed by the Joint Commission:

"The service has grown from small beginnings over a long period of years, hampered by restrictive laws which may have been necessary in the past and may even now be considered necessary to some extent for a Government department, but which would render it practically impossible for any private business to survive.

"The general absence of any efficient methods of accounting has been brought to light by the inquiry carried out by the Joint Commission on second-class mail matter. This report was referred to Congress on January 30, 1907, and our investigation has confirmed the impression gathered from the study of it, that the whole of these methods are crude in the extreme and such as no private business concern or corporation could follow without the certainty of loss, if not of financial disaster."

There are half-a-dozen more of these extracts on the Editorial page of this week's issue of THE SATURDAY EVENING POST.

In the Joint Postal Commission's report of 1907 we find:

"As an indication of the views at present entertained it is proper to say that the commission is profoundly impressed with the wisdom of the accountant's report in recommending the following:

"That the actual direction of the business of the Post-Office Department and postal service be committed to an officer with necessary assistants to be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, for long terms, so as to insure the continuity of efficient service, and that the Postmaster-General, as a member of the Cabinet, be chargeable only with general supervisory control and the determination of questions of policy."

We ask Congress to give us a Director of Posts—as recommended by the Joint Congressional Committee of 1907, an officer who shall be non-political, and whose term of service shall not be subject to political changes, and who shall conduct the workings of the Post-Office Department with the efficiency, economy and businesslike methods which distinguish high-class American business enterprise.

THEATERS

At the Grand.
There will be just three more performances of "Little Nemo" at the Grand, and those who have not seen this gorgeous spectacle will miss a real treat if they let the week go by without a visit to Wonderland and Slumberland and fairyland, with this charming little lad.

"Little Nemo" is such a stupendous and such a startlingly beautiful sight that one always thinks of it first from a scenic standpoint; there is such a riot of color, light, dazzling and kaleidoscopic changes, bewitching costumes, pretty girls, and poetry of motion that the spectator breathes a sigh of supreme satisfaction. Then that trio of comedians, headed by Joe Cawthorn, can draw more than the proverbial laugh a minute.

At the Lyric.
"Music and mirth in plenty" is what a leading critic wrote in his review of the performance of "The Governor, The Girl and the Wise Guy," the new musical comedy with which the Lyric Company will open at the Lyric on next Monday night. A chorus of 20 of the best singers and dancers in musical comedy is "an extra feature." Some of the new musical numbers are: "You Were Made For Me," "Burns," "Hello, Mr. Moonman," "He's a College Boy," "Good Luck, Mary," "I'm Going Back I'm Not That Kind of a Girl," "Barn Dance," "My Little Kangaroo," "Stage Land," "My Little Dixie Lou," "Ogalia, Molly Lee."

New York Busoni-Mad.
New York has gone Busoni-mad, and a review of his appearance at the Manhattan Opera House is only one of the innumerable outbursts. "Puccini Busoni, the Italian pianist, received an ovation last night from the audience at the Manhattan Opera House, after he had played Liszt's first concerto. He finally added the Liszt-Paganini 'Campanella' étude, and after he had played the 'B-flat' concerto recalled six times. The piano was finally dragged from the stage while the audience stood on their feet. Busoni will appear in Atlanta on next Wednesday night, March 2, at the Grand, under the direction of the Atlanta Musical Association. The sale of seats opens this morning.

At the Orpheum.
Kathleen Clifford, Arthur Hill, and a company of 15 singers and dancers, in a spectacular musical comedette, "Betty in Dreamland," Oscar Loraine, the protean violinist, in his characteristic of famous violinists; Lane and O'Connell, comedy knockabout acrobats. These are the three brightest, best acts that compose the bill at the Orpheum this week. To the principal audience so far. Next week, there's a carnival of head-liners, including the comedy quartet, the Five Alvinos, the Five Columbians, Leona Thurber and Harry Madison, and the Three Richardsons.

A Coming Artistic Treat.
Alfred Calzin, the brilliant young pianist who is making his first individual tour this season, under the direction of J. E. Franke, will be heard in this city at Cable Concert Hall on March 3.

With Tetraviz, the great coloratura singer, Calzin made a remarkable tour last season. Everywhere the pianist was hailed as an artist of commanding gifts. He was compared to the greatest, and there was nothing exaggerated in the comparisons, for Calzin is an artist with prodigious technique, a beautiful tone, a marvelous memory and the understanding to interpret with skill and soulful quality the masterpieces written for the piano.

Notable successes with the leading European orchestras were made by Calzin prior to his American debut. He played on one occasion with the Berlin Philharmonic, and his program included the concerto, the Rubinstein in D minor, the Brahms in D minor and the Schytte in C sharp minor. At the same time he appeared in the same city with the same orchestra, Calzin played the Tschakowsky concerto in C major, the Brahms in B flat major and the Sinding in D flat major. He had equal success in Leipzig with the Winderstein Orchestra. More successes followed in Dresden and Vienna, and later he had further triumphs in Copenhagen. These appearances the artist had a tour through southern Germany.

This season Americans are being given an even better opportunity than before to become acquainted with this gifted pianist, whose playing is always on a plane of lofty and beautiful sentiment, and from whom an artist audience may learn a great deal of real worth, and American audiences are ever anxious to learn from performers with ideals.

Mr. Calzin is assured a large audience at his forthcoming concert here.

INDIFFERENT WOMEN HURT SUFFRAGE CAUSE

Mayor of Toledo Says "Home and Woman's Sphere Arguments" Won't Pass.

New York, February 24.—"Those who resort to the home and woman's sphere arguments against woman suffrage are the ones who know least about the home," said Brand Whitlock, mayor of Toledo, Ohio, at a meeting of the Equal Franchise Society today.

His idea of it is that home is a wigwag with modern conveniences and woman is a well-dressed squaw. The sudden indifference of women themselves to this cause is one of the greatest difficulties we have to overcome. The indifferent ones are those who live out of check books and who have no conception of what life is."

FROM A GIRL TO A MAN IN JUST FORTY SECONDS

Lightning Change in Clothing Marks Miss Clifford's Metamorphosis.

There are many women in the world who often express themselves thus: "I wish I could be a man for a little while," or "I would like to be a man." Not only does Miss Kathleen Clifford, in "Betty in Dreamland," change from the little girl of "grandma's day" to the English chappie, who has "known a lot of girls," but she does it in very close to record time.

One minute she is on the stage curtsying to the level of the footlights, with head almost touching the floor, so that feminine eyes may not lose one detail of the marvellously pretty hat she wears, and the next she is back on the boards slowly walking down to the lights with a drawing, "My word, what a lot of pretty girls."

The entire transformation has taken just forty seconds by the watch. The change has been complete. Grandmother's skirts, hat, shoes, hose and lingerie have given way to the dress suit, the silk hose, the patent shoes, the silk hat and the eternal cigarette. Even the necessary handkerchief has been remembered. It is tucked away securely in her sleeve. In her eye is the monocle, in her vest pocket the cigarette case and match box. More than that, this cigarette case has been placed there after the change was started. The young lady once tried placing it in the pocket before putting on the vest and lost precious time at it.

But the inconsistency of the feminine is well illustrated in the fact that off the stage it takes Miss Clifford just as long to dress as her sisters in the audience.

MISS CORNELIA MOORE SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

Though Still Desperately Ill, Slight Change for Better Reported.

Though still critically ill, a slight change for the better was reported at an early hour this morning in the condition of Miss Cornelia Moore, the 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer L. Moore, of 36 West Eleventh street.

She was attacked by pneumonia about ten days ago, and grew steadily worse, her condition on Wednesday being reported as desperate. The ablest physicians in the city have been constantly at her bedside for several days, and every possible care has been exercised by friends and relatives.

Since the announcement of her illness in The Constitution of Thursday morning, the family has been overwhelmed with inquiries from friends and acquaintances anxious about her condition, and hoping for favorable news.

All day Thursday the fight against death continued, hope for her recovery being almost given up several times during the day. The improvement noted was reported at about 1 o'clock this morning.

Little Miss Moore is one of the brightest and sunniest-natured children in Atlanta, and her illness has cast a shadow over a large number of little playmates, with whom she is exceedingly popular. Loved by all her associates, it is the hope of hundreds that the improvement may continue.

FOOTBALL IS SAFER THAN A BARGAIN SALE

New Orleans, February 24.—That it may be safer to face a mass play of footballists than to be caught in a rush of "bargain sale" attendants might be inferred from allegations in a suit filed here late yesterday by Mrs. Mary D. L. Bouchon. Mrs. Bouchon says in her petition that she was carried off her feet and "her body walked upon by the crowd." She seeks to recover from the firm which conducted the sale the sum of $5,000 for her alleged injuries.

Little Boys Are Not Overlooked in Our Juvenile Department

Indeed, no! We're just as mindful of them and their needs as of the little girls. Course their things are not so showy and don't take up so much room. But that's because boys don't wear the frilly, fluffy, showy things little girls love—not because we've slighted them.

Look at these little Bloomer Suits for Boys. They're just as clean and fresh and smart-looking as can be. More than that, they're chock-full of service. They're good friends with the wash-tub. They stand rough-and-tumble wear. They last.

We have these suits in plain white, stripes and colors. They range in price from $1.15 to $1.65.

Hats and Caps

These Hats are for girls and very little boys. They're of silk or mercerized wash fabrics, with little round crowns and rolling brims that can be turned up or down. Jaunty little ribbon rosettes or silk pompons trim these cute little hats. 25c to $2.50.

The Caps are for larger boys. There are several styles, colors and fabrics. Linen, crash, lightweight worsteds, in black and white shepherd checks, gray novelty mixtures, white, golf red and navy blue. 25c and 50c.

Bring your little folks up to our Juvenile Department. We'd love to know them. And they'd enjoy seeing all the pretties we have here for them.

It is said that strong hopes of recovery are entertained.

GENTLEMAN FROM MISSISSIPPI WROTE LINES ON COLLEAGUE

Washington, February 24.—While Colonel Gordon, the aged senator from Mississippi, was in the vice president's chair, during a speech on the income tax by Senator Brown, he occupied himself by writing poetry.

When Vice President Sherman stepped up to Senator Gordon ten or fifteen minutes later, the senator handed over the gavel, and with it a piece of paper on which he had been writing while occupying the chair. On the paper appeared these lines:

"I sat in the president's chair today,
When the senate was drowsy and thin,
And a nice young chap was prating away
Who had never had hair on his chin.
A bright little fellow, by name of Brown,
Who should be at home in his own little town.
Studying in some primitive institution
The A. B. C's of the great constitution.
I've been chased by the yanks and have suffered from sin,
And have writhed in my bed from terrible pain.
But God forgives me for where I've been,
I'll promise never to sit here again."

WOMAN HUGGED A BURGLAR AND PREVENTED ROBBERY

Chicago, February 24.—Thieves showed the white feather in two instances last night when resisted by intended victims and fled.

In one place a woman threw her arms around a burglar's neck and held him so tightly that he was obliged to throw off his coat in order to escape. In the other place two armed robbers were put to flight by a string of hot-lava sausages hurled into their faces.

Mrs. Fred Brona saw a burglar climbing out through the basement window of her home. She caught him by the legs and pulled him back into the basement. Then she threw her arms around his neck and screamed for help. The thief struck at her and struggled, but was unable to free himself. He finally succeeded in dragging his arms from the sleeves of his coat and left Mrs. Brona holding the garment, while he jumped through the open window.

Two robbers, one armed with a pistol and the other with a billy and both with blackened faces, entered the grocery of Herman Barnikow, 2242 Belmont avenue, last night. "We want your money," said the robber with a revolver. Barnikow seized a string of hot-lava sausage hanging on a hook and threw them at him, striking him squarely in the face. The robbers fled with Barnikow in pursuit. Barnikow, who weighs nearly 300 pounds, chased the men for two blocks, but they outran him and escaped.

Mexico, Mo., February 24.—More than a thousand hens from the United States and Europe will meet in an egg-laying contest here next fall. If the plans of T. E. Quisenberry, secretary of the Missouri State Poultry Board, are successfully carried out.

The competition will be held at the poultry experiment station, which will be built here and conducted under the supervision of the United States department of Agriculture.

The proposed egg-laying contest will be conducted along the lines of one held a few days ago in Australia. It will last six months and is intended to demonstrate the possibilities of a scientifically conducted poultry business.

WERE COLLEGE BOYS SEEING THINGS OR WAS THIS REAL LIVE ALLIGATOR?

Athens, Ga., February 24.—(Special.) This morning about 11 o'clock J. R. Montgomery was walking over the new athletic field of the University of Georgia, which is in process of construction near Lumpkin street, on the extended campus, when he discovered a strange animal, and upon investigation, found that a 10-inch alligator was taking a stroll across the field.

Mr. Montgomery promptly captured the wandering saurian and brought it to the business section of the city, where it was viewed by many people during the day. There have been many theories advanced as to how the alligator came to be wandering over the new field, and as this is the third 'gator to be captured in this city during the past six or seven months, the citizens are beginning to think that there are likely more of the saurians still uncaptured.

Two 'gators were discovered in a small branch near the State Normal School several months ago by some workmen, and the captured animals were placed in the small park at the fire station No. 2, where they are still the object of interest to passers-by. The third 'gator will probably be sent to join his relatives at this place, while hunters and others who have occasion to pass through the marshes round the city are keeping a sharp lookout for more specimens.

FRENCH SENATORS FIGHT WITH SWORDS

Millies-Lacroix Runs Lintilhac Through the Forearm.

Paris, February 24.—Senators Millies-Lacroix and Lintilhac fought a duel with swords in the Parc des Princes this morning. At the first encounter, Millies-Lacroix neatly parried a lunge by Lintilhac and ran the latter through the forearm. Lintilhac wished to continue, but the seconds stopped the combat. The adversaries were reconciled before leaving the field.

Lacroix is president. The president called Lintilhac a liar, and the latter responded.

"My seconds will deliver my answer," Senator Millies-Lacroix was formerly minister of the colonies, and is 60 years of age. Senator Lintilhac is three years younger. Both are heavily built. When they faced each other today they were attired in blouses and trousers of soft linen.

War on "Bleated" Oysters.

Washington, February 24.—Interstate shipments of "watered" or "bleated" oysters are to be investigated by the pure food and drugs inspectors through the department of agriculture. It is held that such shipments in interstate commerce are in violation of the pure food law, and it is proposed by the department of agriculture to stop them if possible.

BLACK HORSE CAVALRY PARADED FOR ALLDS

General Field Day in the Bribery Case at Albany.

New York, February 24.—After its pyrotechnical opening, the defense in the Conger-Allds bribery case dragged today and in the final hour gave way to a general field day in which nearly a dozen senators participated. The question under discussion was the admission of testimony regarding Allds' attitude toward highway regulation.

The witnesses were amply pointed out as members of the "black horse cavalry," accused by counsel for Senator Benn Conger of holding up the bridge companies. At one time or another since 1901, all had served in the assembly, some were introducers of highway bills disapproved by the bridge interests, and others were members of the committee on rules and internal affairs where, Conger alleges, in 1901, two of these measures were amended or killed to meet the bridge companies' wishes, on payment of $5,000 to Senator Allds and two others. Allds' counsel put these witnesses on the stand to disprove Conger's testimony so far as it reflected on them, and thereby invalidate his charges against Allds.

New York, February 24.—George G. Ward, vice president and general manager of the Commercial Cable Company, announces that in view of the public demand for increased facilities and greater speed of transmission, the Commercial Cable Company will proceed at once to lay an additional trans-Atlantic cable. MILLIONS IN GOLD LIE UNDER FROZEN EARTH

Graphic Picture Is Drawn of the Wealth of Alaska.

Washington, February 24.—A graphic picture of Alaska, with her millions in gold lying hidden beneath hundreds of feet of frozen earth, was drawn by Delegate James Wickersham in a statement before the house committee on territories, in support of a bill for the revision of the Alaskan mining laws.

He told of the luck of the pioneer prospector and of his pathetic failures; the crudeness and the inadequacy of the mining laws in that territory, and of the frequent resort to the rifle and pistol—even the occasional summary punishment of violators by the rougher code of the hangman's noose. "There is not a feature of the mining of the territory," said Wickersham, "but that is now open to litigation. Our claim to every acre of mining ground there is held by a rope of sand."

"Alaska has always paid her way. She has never asked anything of Uncle Sam. Last year she sent to him $20,000,000 in virgin gold, and her trade with the United States was worth $60,000,000."

Tax on Insurance Companies.

Richmond, Va., February 24.—The house finance committee today sent the senate insurance bill, introduced by Senator Kezell, and adopted by the senate, to the house, with the recommendation that it be adopted with an amendment which provides that the life insurance companies doing business must pay a tax of one and four-tenths per cent of their gross receipts. This item of the bill was originally 1½ per cent. The bill was bitterly fought by the insurance company representatives. It is thought probable it will be made a law.

"BIG STICK" FAVORED FOR CENTRAL AMERICA

Magoon Says United States Must Keep the Peace.

Boston, February 24.—"It was certainly to the advantage of everything and everybody that Castro was deposed and exiled from Venezuela, and equally advantageous that Zelaya was deposed and exiled from Nicaragua," said Charles E. Magoon in a speech before the Commercial Club of Boston this evening.

"No more salutary lesson could have been given the men occupying official stations in the turbulent Central American republics," he continued, "and a great step in advance will be taken when a realization is forced upon them that there exists a power that will hold them individually responsible for the results of official misdeeds and maladministration."

"If the Monroe Doctrine means anything," said Mr. Magoon, "it means and always has meant the dominance of the United States in the western hemisphere, and if this dominance is to be maintained, the United States must see to it that the governments of this hemisphere discharge their duties to their citizens, their international obligations, and keep pace with the progress of the world. No other course is open to us."

Carson Pleads for Extension.

Washington, February 24.—Extension of the work of the bureau of manufactures of the department of commerce and labor is the keynote of the annual report of Major Carson, chief of the bureau, made public today. He believes that the results obtained through what the bureau has done already and the interest shown by manufacturers throughout the country in the information being furnished to them by the bureau, calls for an expansion of the bureau's force and work.

Winner Seemed to Have Some Hold in Race.

Ballot Box Was the Favorite, but Jockey Wright Seemed Not to Care to Win the Race. Three Outsiders Home in Front.

Jacksonville, Fla., February 24.—Quite a ripple of excitement was occasioned here today when a complaint was made by two turf correspondents over the telegraph service from the race track. The trouble arose over the fact that messages of a personal character were being shown or reported to Mr. Brown, manager of Monier Park. The gentlemen's race, the carded feature, was much less of a success, inasmuch as the winner, Tivoli, ridden by Donald Pons, son of the secretary-treasurer of the local association, appeared to have some hold in the race. Ballot Box, the opening favorite in this race, and ridden by Tommy Wright, was the medium of a world of unfavorable criticism. BILLY WEST'S HAND BROKEN AND SPRAINED
He Has Doctor's Certificate as Proof He Accepts Buckles' Def.

Billy West, the New York boxer who defeated Guy Buckles at the Monroe Athletic Club in the Steiner-Emery building, on Tuesday night, broke a bone in his hand. Further, he sprained his right wrist, thus making his right arm practically useless.

Despite this handicap, he fought a game bout, did all the rushing, and kept his man on the go all the way. West's hand is now in splints, and he further prove that the accident did happen, he has a certificate from the attending physician in regard to the hand. It reads:

"To Whom It May Concern: This certifies that Billy West is suffering from a fracture of one of the bones of the hand and a sprained wrist, which would positively prevent him from using his right arm under any circumstances. (Signed) Frank K. Boland, M.D."

It is said that Buckles challenges me to meet him with a $500 side bet," said West. "This I am willing to do, but I am not going to make any weight for him, for he is no champion. I will meet him at catch weights in about a month, for any amount I am going to beat him. I will be in New York. I won't be able to use my hand for a month or more, and when it is healed I will start training again and will then take Buckles on. If he wants any of my game."

CRACKERS MAY REPORT HERE ON MARCH 5

Manager Otto Jordan, of the local baseball team, announced yesterday that he may probably issue instructions to his players shortly to report here by March 5, instead of March 10, as the instructions now stand.

The reason for the change is that the manager wants to get his men at work a little earlier and have them keyed up sooner.

Six Crackers will leave for Hot Springs, Ark. Sunday night to reap the benefit of the baths at that place in bolting out old kinks sustained during the winter.

This announcement was made by Manager Otto Jordan yesterday, and he is like a child rigidly awaiting the arrival of the day that he will leave for the springs.

The players who will accompany Manager Otto Jordan are Catcher Matt Mathews, Outfielder Charlie Seitz and First Baseman Ed Hornhorst. Mrs. Bayless, Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Jordan may probably accompany their husbands on the trip.

PREP BASEBALL TEAMS PRACTICING

Schedule Committee Named to Frame Up All Playing Dates.

Prep baseball in Atlanta is going to get a good start this year, judging by the activity which the several local institutions are exhibiting in getting their candidates out to early practices.

On last Wednesday night the representatives from the prep schools of Atlanta met at Peacock's School for Boys, on Forrest avenue, to arrange matters for the coming baseball season.

A schedule committee was appointed by President King, which was as follows: Luck, chairman, of G. M. A.; Bean, of Marlatt; Johnston, of Boys' High School; LaFitte, of Deacons; Snyder, of Technological High School.

This committee will begin work right away on arranging the dates for games. It was also voted by the meeting that the two umpires for this season would be Stoney and Griffin. Stoney acted in that position last year. The regulation baseballs will be used by the league.

A pennant was offered to the winning team by Shelley Ivy. A cup has also been offered to the best man in the league for three seasons. Last season, which was the first since the league has been organized, it was won by the Boys' High School.

The members of the league present also talked about a joint track meet between the schools. This matter, however, was left incomplete, and it will be taken up later.

RIVERSIDE STARTS BASEBALL PRACTICE

Open Up With Game Against Faculty, Whom They Liked.

Gainesville, Ga., February 24.—(Special.)—Riverside began her spring practice yesterday, opening up in a game with the faculty. It was a fast and good game of baseball held on yesterday, the varsity managed to sneak a couple of runs better than did the faculty team. Frank Anderson, pitcher, was the star of the game, throwing a fast ball, and the faculty team was out of the game in the first inning. The varsity team, which was the first since the league has been organized, it was won by the Boys' High School.

The members of the league present also talked about a joint track meet between the schools. This matter, however, was left incomplete, and it will be taken up later.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR GEORGIA NINE

Sixty Candidates Engage in Their First Work-Outs.

Athens, Ga., February 24.—(Special.) Baseball practice is on at the university in earnest, and Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday saw a hefty squad of some sixty candidates out in the field indulging in batting practice, fielding and other preliminary work, under the direction of Coach Colter and Captain Lucas.

The candidates, numbering more than have ever been out for the nine in many years, are all likely looking for a place on the team. The team will be made up of the best of the candidates, and the manager hopes to be able to announce several social entertainments on this trip. This trip has been made an annual affair, and it is made while the rest of the school is in camp at Tallahassee.

The games with Bingham will practically decide the pre supremacy between the two states if Riverside puts out the team she did last year, and Bingham keeps up with her past record. Both schools seem anxious for the games, and by the time the games are played it seems that much rivalry will be manifested.

On March 26 Riverside will play the University of Georgia in Athens, and the entire student body will accompany the team on this trip. The game that practically the entire faculty of the university will be the same as the last year, and the manager hopes to be able to announce several social entertainments on this trip. GREAT PACKERS
WILL BE INDICTED
BY 31 MAJORITY

Bills Will Be Returned First Trial of Strength by Jersey Grand Jury.

It Is Said Fifteen Indictments Will Be Handed Up Before Justice Swayze Today—Indictments Follow Investigation of Cold Storage Plants.

New York, February 24.—After weeks of investigation by a grand jury in Hudson county, New York, indictments are tonight that 15 indictments will be handed up before Justice Swayze in the supreme court at Jersey City tomorrow, against the great packing interests of the country maintaining cold storage plants in Jersey City.

Just who will be named as individual directors or officers, it is, of course, impossible to ascertain. But it is known definitely that indictments have been prepared which will charge conspiracy in restraint of trade under the New Jersey state laws.

This inquiry at Jersey City has been the most important one in the east since the wave of public opinion demanded legal steps to lighten the burden of the ever-increasing higher cost of living. The great storehouses there hold the food supplies upon which the millions of Greater New York and New Jersey have been cooperating in the investigation. A grand jury in New York county is to begin a similar line of inquiry within a few days.

The plants that were under investigation are operated by the National Packing Company, Selsdon & Co., Swift & Co., and Armour & Co. Pierre Garven, the public prosecutor of Hudson county, has conducted the investigation, but recently has been balked in his attempts to obtain the books of the National Packing Company. The prosecutor threatens to obtain a court writ in order to get possession, and, failing in this, to invoke the packing company's charter.

There was circulated today a story that men from Chicago had attempted to bribe Mr. Garven to call a halt in the investigation. While the prosecutor declined either to confirm or deny the report, it was said that he intimated that some sort of advances had been made to him, the details of which he declined to discuss.

First Trial of Strength in New Parliament.

Austen Chamberlain's Fiscal Amendment Is Rejected by Vote of 285 to 254—The Laborites Voted With the Government.

London, February 24.—The first trial of strength in the new parliament occurred tonight at a crowded session of the house of commons, when Austen Chamberlain's fiscal amendment was rejected by a vote of 285 to 254. Speeches were made by Arthur J. Balfour, leader of the opposition; Chancellor Lloyd-George, Walter Runciman, president of the board of education; A. Bonar Law and others, none of which, however, gave any new aspect to the fiscal controversy.

Although victorious only by the narrow majority of 31, the government may regard the result as very satisfactory, inasmuch as there was no cross-voting and no evidence of any intention on the part of the discontented groups to overthrow the ministry. All the nationalists, the O'Brienites, as well as the Redoubtites, abstained from voting. The laborites voted with the government, and three liberals, Hilaire Belloc, Horatio W. Bottomley and J. C. Wedgwood abstained.

Division was taken amidst a scene of great excitement, and the figures as announced were received with tremendous opposition cheering. The premier, having given notice that he would move on Monday that government business would take precedence over all other business until March 24, the house adjourned.

The government's existence now will depend upon the production of a plan satisfactory to the nationalists and the radicals for dealing in a drastic manner with the house of lords' power of veto.

DEATH THREATS
BY BLACK HAND

Federal Judge and Attorney Are Menaced.

Black Hand Angry Because Lupo, "the Wolf," and His Followers Were Sent to the Federal Prison in Atlanta for Long Terms.

New York, February 24.—Since United States Judge Ray, of the northern district of New York, last week sentenced to long terms in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta Lupo "the Wolf" and seven other notorious counterfeiters and all-around bad men, he has received a threatening letter from the "Black Hand."

Besides threatening Judge Ray, the writer of the letter used savage language against Abel I. Smith, the assistant United States district attorney, who successfully prosecuted the Lupo-Morello gang, and Captain William J. Flynn, of the local secret service, who worked up the case against the Italian criminals.

United States District Attorney Wise, who has seen the letter, said that it had been mailed in this city. It was written in Italian. Literally translated, it read as follows:

"If the counterfeiters are not liberated, you will die like a dog. We have killed better men than you or Smith or Flynn."

In the left-hand corner of the letter was a roughly-drawn heart with a dagger sticking through it. There were also two revolvers, roughly drawn, pointing toward the heart.

BAD BILIOUS

There is nothing that will more completely knock out a man, or woman either, and entirely incapacitate them for work or pleasure, than a bad attack of biliousness. You get up with a headache which increases if you stoop over. You are dizzy when you stand up straight again. Your tongue is coated and your mouth tastes bad. You are irritable and out of sorts. That's biliousness.

If you want to get right again remove the cause. Your bowels are clogged. The natural sewers of the body fail to carry off the poisonous matter. The bile is being absorbed by the blood, and your whole body is crying out against the imposition. Take three Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills at once. Don't wait till you go to bed. Then take two more when you retire. It is astonishing to see how quickly they will relieve. They restore the liver and stomach to normal activity and purify the blood. Physicians use and recommend. They form no habit. You should always keep these little Vegetable Pills on hand. They ward off many ills.

MASK TO BE TORN OFF INSURGENTS

Alleged Independent Republicans to Be Exposed.

Democrats Want to Know Why "Insurgents" Pose at Home as Foes of Cannon, and Yet Do the Speaker's Bidding in the House.

By John Corrigan, Jr.
Washington, February 24.—(Special.)—Insurgent and near-insurgent members of the house are to be butchered to make a Roman holiday tomorrow, if Representative Claude Kitchen, of North Carolina, is able to secure recognition for a few brief remarks. Mr. Kitchen is to be the butcher. His sanguinary intentions are inspired by what he believes to be a tendency on the part of some of the republican members to pose as insurgents and anti-Cannonites in their home districts, while here in Washington they perform constantly as staunch supporters of the speaker.

I merely want to ask them why they wear a halo of insurgency at their homes and the yoke of Cannonism here in Washington.

What Kitchen Says.
Said Mr. Kitchen today:
"I understand that several of the Minnesota and Ohio members, for example, have placed themselves on record out in their districts as opposed to the speaker, and I am at a loss to understand this in view of their consistent performances in support of the speaker here in the house. Take the Ohio members, for instance. I venture the assertion that no delegation has been more loyal to Mr. Cannon here in Washington than has the Ohio delegation. They have supported everything he has supported, and they have opposed everything he has opposed, from matters of legislation to questions of rules. And yet, I am told, several of them have issued statements at their homes declaring that they are against the speaker. I think it only fair that they should place themselves on record here as against Cannon, if they really are against him, and I have it in mind to ask them just what they purpose doing if re-elected. Will these near-insurgents come back here and fight Cannon and Cannonism and become Simon-pure insurgents, or will they come back and insure mildly and inoffensively and then go into the republican caucus and be bound by whatever action the caucus takes, lining up for Cannon again, if he is able to dominate the caucus."

Aided by Democratic Leaders.
Representative Kitchen is aided and abetted by the democratic leaders in his plan to go after insurgent republicans, as they believe they can make some good campaign material out of the situation he may develop. It may be said also, that Speaker Cannon and his close friends will rather enjoy the grilling some of these republicans will receive at Kitchen's hands. The speaker has intimated repeatedly that some of the insurgents who were declaring against him in their homes were endeavoring to continue on friendly terms with him here in Washington.

It is also said that one or two of them dodged the speaker for weeks after they made their declarations, and did not have the courage to face him, or to tell him frankly to his face that they were against him.

GREAT CELEBRATION IN JEFFERSON'S HONOR Planned by the Democrats. Governor Brown Invited to Attend.

By John Corrigan, Jr.
Washington, February 24.—(Special.)—A great democratic celebration in honor of Jefferson's birthday is being planned by the National Democratic party, the democratic organization of the District of Columbia, and the democratic congressional campaign committee, to be held in Washington on April 2, and invitations to a select number of big men in the party have been sent out.

Among those invited to attend are Governors Hiram, of Ohio, Brown, of Georgia; Marshall, of Indiana; and Shellenberger, of Nebraska. A celebration is planned for the same day at Indianapolis and Governor Marshall may remain in his own state for that event, though some members of the committee think he might decide to come to Washington for the celebration projected on national lines.

Four Candidates in Race.
Statesboro, Ga., February 24.—(Special.)—The fourth candidate was added in the race for representative this week when Josiah Everette, a farmer living in the upper section of the county, announced. There are two representatives from Bulloch county, and up to this time there have been four candidates, with a probability of more. There is some talk among the candidates of an early primary for county officers, but no decision has been made yet.

CHICKEN ORDINANCE RAISES FIRE OF CITIZENS OF CORDELE

Cordele, Ga., February 24.—(Special.)—A local issue around which interest is centered at the present time in Cordele is an ordinance recently enacted by the city council prohibiting chickens from running at large after March 1. A strong petition, signed by many of Cordele's best citizens, will be presented to the city fathers at their next meeting in an effort to get this ordinance repealed, while the Woman's Club, who assume, mainly, the honorable responsibility for this famous "chicken ordinance," are putting forth every effort to have it go into effect as scheduled.

It looks now as though the city fathers at their next meeting will be compelled to face a line of hot firing whomever way they may turn in the matter. The petitioners will urge an election for its maintenance or repeal, claiming a majority of the citizens heartily oppose such a law.

BOARD WILL CONSIDER BUILDING NEW SCHOOLS

At the regular meeting of the board of education, held yesterday, it was announced that a special meeting would be called Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock for the purpose of giving full discussion to the question of building new schools, as provided by the bond issue.

Supt. W. M. Slaton reported that a thorough examination of all the children in the schools had been made, and that all who needed it had been properly vaccinated.

The following supernumeraries were elected as regular teachers: Misses Mary Holcomb, Mabel Parks, Lucile Youngblood, Julia Goode, Vera Summer, Rose Moran, Emma Childress, Nell Wilson, Patti Harrison, Alma Curtis and Charlene Middleton.

The board ordered that Superintendent Slaton be granted a leave of absence next week for the purpose of attending a meeting of the department of superintendents of the National Education Association in Indianapolis on March 1, 2, 3 and 4.

SHE STARTED ENDLESS CHAIN BUT IS NOT ABLE TO STOP IT

Washington, February 24.—Mrs. Rosie Abraham started an endless chain scheme for the benefit of the Hebrew Infant asylum in New York a little while ago. Pretty soon Mrs. Abraham found she was being criticised for it and decided to stop the chain, when she discovered she could not.

By some arrangement her mail was being sent to Nashville, Tenn., and she arranged with the postmaster here to refuse all of it, except that which she identified by return cards.

Some citizens of Nashville objected, and the postoffice inspectors looked into the case. They decided that the best way to stop the flood of letters was to issue a bulletin telling about the case and leaving the public to draw its own conclusions.

If the letters will cease piling in Mrs. Abraham's will be glad.

More Explaining By President Taft

He Denies That He Has "Hedged" on Platform Pledges.

Washington, February 24.—Following his return from a two-day trip to New York and Newark, N. J., today, President Taft had several conferences with members of the two houses of congress regarding the legislative program.

In recently published interviews purporting to set forth the president's attitude, it was said that he would press only four measures at this session of congress. The printed list omitted all reference to the conservation bills, whereas the president has repeatedly pointed out that he would insist, so far as he legitimately could, that some of the conservation measures should be enacted into law before the present session adjourns. The bills which the president declared today that he looked to for congress in redemption of solemn platform pledges are these:

Establishing postal savings banks. Amending and strengthening the interstate commerce laws.

The conservation measures, giving the president the right to withdraw public lands from entry and to cancel the withdrawal until revoked by himself or by act of congress, and providing for a reclassification of the lands. These two bills may be consolidated.

The anti-injunction bill. Statehood for New Mexico and Arizona. In addition to these, the president has recommended several other matters of legislation, including the bill for a new form of government in Alaska, the bill for federal incorporation of the bill creating a public health bureau.

Mr. Taft left it to be known that while he would urge only the five measures set forth as party pledges, he has by no means abandoned the other measures he has recommended.

BAILEY KNOWS POSTAL BANKS

Texasan Says Measure Is Utterly Objectionable.

Despite the Demand in Democratic Platform for Postal Banks, Bailey Declines to Support Measure—He Says Measure Is Not Constitutional.

By John Corrigan, Jr.
Washington, February 24.—(Special.)—The postal savings bank measure of the president was fairly riddled in the presence of a crowded senate by Senator Bailey, of Texas, this afternoon. In a speech which deeply impressed those who heard it and amply sustained the reputation of the Texas statesman as a forceful debater.

"The bill," he declared in his very first sentence, "is subject to every objection which can be urged against any measure."

Neither under the power to regulate commerce, nor under the power to borrow money on the credit of the United States, nor under the power to establish postoffices and postroads, nor to coin money, nor even under the general welfare clause could he find any excuse for the government in establishing postal banks.

He then reviewed the section of the constitution which had been invoked to justify its passage and discussed each of them separately.

THE WORLD AT WORK!

"The man who owns land, has the world at work for him." Buy acreage tracts along the South Decatur car line. It looks promising. Invest near the big freight terminals; they are permanent fixtures. That's where business houses will want to locate. An Atlanta man should not take to stocks and bonds, which do not yield enough income. Buy standard renting property—it pays 10% to 12%, and is worth more money next year.

DEBATING LEAGUE FOR PREP. SCHOOLS

Boys From Five Institutions May Hold Polemic.

At the meeting of the representatives from the local preparatory schools on last Wednesday night at Peacock's School for Boys, the matter of organizing an interschool declamatory contest was discussed. The representatives from five schools were present from Boys' High School, Technological High School, Peacock's School, Marietta College and Georgia Military Academy. These representatives expressed themselves as being in favor of the contest. The Boys' High School, Peacock's School and the Technological High School have already consented to enter the contest, and the other two schools will most probably enter it also.

According to one of the representatives at the meeting, if the present plans can be carried out the speaking exercises will be held in the Auditorium. One, or possibly two, speakers will contest for the prize from each school.

The schools have been talking about organizing a contest of this sort for some time, and they are all very much interested in its success.

FOUR ARE INJURED IN FLORIDA WRECK

Head-on Collision of Passenger and Work Trains Occurred Near Lakeland.

Lakeland, Fla., February 24.—A serious wreck occurred at 3 o'clock this afternoon near Medulla, on the Winston and Bone Valley railroad, five miles south of here, as the result of a head-on collision between a passenger train bound for Fort Meade and an extra work train.

The trains met on a sharp curve, both engines being demolished. The engineers leaped in time to save their lives. L. B. Jones, an express messenger, was thrown from his car under the wheels and was killed. He was paralyzed from the waist down and in a serious condition. John Moore, of Kathleen, foreman of the work train, had his right leg broken and was badly bruised. C. W. Chastain, of Lake City, was severely cut and bruised. One negro, name unknown, had his leg broken. None of the passengers was seriously injured.
